

Wednesday Is Deadline For Hiring New Junior College Administrator

In a special meeting Friday night, the Twin Falls county junior college board made plans to hire an administrator Wednesday for the junior college. The board set this deadline since the administrator will have to do most of the hiring of additional personnel for the college. The board has interviewed two applicants for the position of administrator and has several more to interview before Wednesday.

Salaries, expenses, housing for an administrator and other aspects to be included in an administrative contract were discussed at some length.

Much care is being taken by the board to secure the right man for the position because, as one board member stated, "This college will initially be built on the image of the first administrator, and we need someone who will project the right image."

Robert Blustock, Jr., filer, chairman of the junior college board, said that the meetings and reports last week with the representatives from the Idaho state board for vocational education were very successful. He said they had found a building in the area that would be ideal for housing the technical training program. He said the building was large enough to house the whole program and if arrangements could be made, the building would be secured for this purpose.

Blustock said preliminary drafts of a planned survey are being made and it should get under way soon. The purpose of the survey is to determine possible enrollment in the junior college and the technical training program to be held in conjunction with the college. A survey of area high school seniors and juniors is planned, as well as a newspaper survey of people who are not in school or who live outside the area.

American Is Sentenced For Spying

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Feb. 20 (AP)—A military court in Syria today sentenced an American citizen to death on charges of spying for the United States and Israel, the government-controlled radio in Damascus reported.

The American's cousin, a Syrian army major, also was sentenced to death on the same charges. The U.S. embassy in Damascus was implicated in the charges.

The sentences of Farhan Attasi, the American, and Maj. Ibrahim Hamami must be approved by Syrian Premier Amin before they can be carried out.

Attasi's American wife and their two children were reported to be in Damascus when the sentences were announced.

Testimony broadcast by Damascus radio, said Attasi, who has both American and Syrian passports, had been promised large sums of money for intelligence purposes.

The government claimed the source of the money was Walter Wadsworth, the second secretary of the U.S. embassy in Damascus.

Farmers to Get Insurance

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP)—Farmers in Canyon and Twin Falls counties will be among the first in the nation to become eligible for federal crop insurance protection for sugar beets. It was announced today.

Sen. Frank Church and Rep. Hampton I. White, Idaho Democrats, said the new insurance provides farmers protection against all risks, including excessive moisture, freezes, heat, wind, insects and plant disease.

They said production guarantees for sugar beet growers in the counties will be based on 10 years' yields on each farm.

Parents and Teachers Hear Talk on Reading Problems

The Delacato method of treating and preventing reading problems in children was discussed during a special session of parents and teachers Saturday afternoon at a meeting of the Kindergarten association in this city.

Mrs. Gordon Gray, 132 Fifth street, who owns and operates the Magic Valley Reading Center, 127 Shoshone street north, made a talk and, with the aid of an 11-year-old girl, a demonstration of Delacato's methods of treating and preventing reading problems.

Some seven other kindergarten teachers, and some parents, attended the afternoon session.

Gray presented a talk on the development of children's

Accidental Gunshot Fatal to Burley Man

BURLEY, Feb. 20—Eugene Archie Birch, 34, died Friday afternoon of an accidental gunshot wound at his home at Burley. Floyd Higns, Burley policeman and investigating officer, said Birch apparently had been cleaning two shotguns and a .22 caliber rifle during his lunch hour when the accident occurred. When Birch had failed to return to work Friday afternoon, his employer, Donald Lallman, a Burley contractor, went to Birch's home to see why he did not show up for work. Lallman found Birch lying on the floor. Lallman then notified police.

Higns said the two shotguns and rifle were still on the table and the barrels of the three were pointing towards a chair in which Birch had been sitting.

One of the shotguns had been dismantled and a cleaning rod was still in the barrel. Higns said apparently the cleaning rod, when pushed through the barrel of the dismantled shotgun, had struck the trigger of the .22 caliber rifle, discharging it. The bullet struck Birch in the chest.

Dr. Leslie L. Fillmore, county coroner, said there will not be an inquest.

Mr. Birch was born Nov. 5, 1930, at Burley. He attended and was graduated from Burley schools. He was a veteran of the Korean conflict and a member of the LDS church and Minidoka Archery club.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Birch, Burley; two brothers, Wayne Birch, Pocatello, and Gerald Birch, Burley; two sisters, Thelma Birch and Freda Birch, both Burley; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Badger, Burley, and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Knowles, Salmon.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday in the Burley LDS ward chapel with Bishop Hiram Andrew officiating. Final rites will be held at Gem Memorial garden. Friends may call at Payne mortuary Monday afternoon and until time of services Tuesday.

Red Guerrilla Supply Depot Is Discovered

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, Feb. 20 (AP)—South Vietnamese forces have uncovered a make-shift communist guerrilla supply depot—holding perhaps 30 tons of arms and supplies—in a cave and on a beach 200 miles north-east of Saigon, military authorities reported today.

They said it may be the biggest weapons haul of the year.

The officials said there was no doubt the material was shipped by sea from Communist North Viet Nam to supply Viet Cong forces fighting in the south. The cache included Red Chinese and Soviet-made weapons.

The announcement of the haul in Saigon coincided with a broadcast from North Viet Nam expressing concern that the United States might launch air strikes against the North without provocation. This concern was voiced in the official Hanoi paper Nhan Dan.

The supply depot was discovered during a routine flight by a U.S. helicopter over Vung Ro bay last Tuesday. The helicopter drew heavy fire from a 120-foot steel-hulled communist gunboat under a camouflage cover in the bay's shallow waters.

Vietnamese fighter-bombers were summoned and they sank the vessel.

A child usually has no problems in reading if he goes through certain stages at certain age levels, Mrs. Gray noted.

A child should make his own choice as to which hand he will use to pick-up an object. Mrs. Gray noted, pointing out that a child is naturally ambidextrous until 2 years old.

A normally-developed child does not set a certain pattern until 8 years old, Mrs. Gray said.

Mrs. Merle Stoddard, director of the Twin Falls Easter Seal center, which works in cooperation with Mrs. Gray's organization, was at the meeting and See READING, Pg. 2, Col. 7

Ranger 8 Sends Scientific Bonanza of Pictures of Moon

PASADENA, Calif., Feb. 20 (AP)—Ranger 8 sent Earthward today a scientific bonanza of more than 7,500 close-up pictures of the moon. Even as the spacecraft hurtled toward its 1:57 a.m. crash on a dusty lunar plain, scientists applied themselves to processing and analyzing the batch of shots—almost twice as sharp as those returned by Ranger 7 last year. The Jet Propulsion laboratory, where Rangers are made and guided, was a scene of jubilation when word was announced that Ranger 8's six cameras had started clicking 23 minutes before impact and were transmitting perfectly.

Experts gave these reasons for the difference between pictures from Rangers 7 and 8:

1. Achievement of a low trajectory that allowed 23 minutes of photography, 13 more than originally expected and 10 minutes more than accomplished by Ranger 7.
2. Two more sensitive cameras and a brighter, apparently "cleaner" landing field than Ranger 7 had.
3. An impact area close to the moon's shadow line, where mountains, craters and rocks—caught by a "settling" sun—threw long, sharply etched shadows before passing under the dark of the Earth, thus yielding photos with strong contrast.

Ranger 7, in its final 13 minutes, took 4,316 pictures near Mare Nubium later renamed Mare Cognitum, the "Sea That Has Become Known." This area is some 1,000 miles west of the shadow line. Ranger 7's pictures were 2,000 times better than any taken with Earth telescopes—showing an area broken by many craters, some as small as 18 inches in diameter.

Bliss Man Killed as Fire Destroys House

BLISS, Feb. 20—Charles E. (Chick) Kelly, 67, Bliss, died about midnight Friday in a fire which destroyed his three-room house, two miles south of here on the old Bliss grade. The fire is believed to have resulted from an overheated oil stove, Gooding county Sheriff Vern Royce reports. Maurice Smith, Hagerman, was returning from a basketball game in Bliss when he saw the fire and called the Hagerman volunteer fire department. According to John Shobe, one of the firemen, "As the fire truck arrived, the remaining two-by-fours fell."

William Exon, who resided with Kelly, was not home at the time of the fire. He was visiting relatives near Boise.

An inquest will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Hagerman in the office of the justice of the peace.

Mr. Kelly was born at Underwood, Ia., Nov. 29, 1897. He attended schools at Pegrin, Ida. He worked on the railroad between Huntington, Ore., and Kemmerer, Wyo., for more than 40 years. He lived at Bliss most of his life.

He was a member of Railroad Brotherhood Maintenance and of the Union Pacific Old Timers club at Glenn Ferry.

Surviving are two brothers, John H. Kelly, Hagerman, and Oscar Kelly, Westport, Wash., and a half-sister, Mrs. Grace Mahood, Long Beach, Calif.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Thursday at Thompson chapel, Gooding, by the Rev. James Holt, Hagerman Baptist church. Final rites will be held at Hagerman cemetery.

Water Bill Presented to Gem Solons

BOISE, Feb. 20 (UPI)—An Idaho legislative session rapidly approaching decisions on its great issues received today a new bill that would allow the state to develop in its own water projects. Offering the bill was the senate's public resources and public recreation committee. It replaced two earlier proposals that would have created a state water resources board. Committee Chairman Donald Samuelson, R., Bonner, said the new bill "embodies the best parts of the two bills introduced earlier and on which we held public hearings."

Both houses were in session today, attempting to whittle down their swollen third reading calendars. At mid-afternoon the legislature adjourned until 10 a.m. Tuesday. Washington's birthday will be observed Monday.

Tuesday and Wednesday will find the 38th session making decisions on four key issues.

Thursday the house will bring to a vote a Farm Bureau proposal to increase the state income tax through a 2½ per cent surtax. The measure has been offered as an alternative to a sales tax. In the senate the same day, floor debate is scheduled on a $5.3 million dollar general fund appropriation for public schools.

The sales tax itself comes to a vote in the house Wednesday. Meanwhile, the senate will be considering a proposed change in the state referendum laws that would allow an early popular vote on the sales tax.

High School Students to "Run" City

An old tradition was reborn Friday when Twin Falls high school seniors went to the polls to elect seven classmates as city commissioners for March 2, when they will operate the city government under the direction of the regular officials.

According to J. H. Domowicz, one of the instructors, this is the first time in many years this has been done in cooperation with the city.

Seniors elected to serve as commissioners are David High, John Astorguia, Robert Nora, Howard Robinson, Thomas Lynch, John Swan and James Hawley. These representatives will appoint 17 others to serve with them.

On March 1 they will attend the city commission meeting, and the following day will take over the offices of the respective city officials.

Instructors E. A. Chupa, Harold Brown, Domowicz and Reed Pfeiffer have been preparing the students for the day for the past two weeks. They have been studying student government and have gained experience in formulating platforms and campaigning.

Member of the Twin Falls high school student body will host a luncheon March 2 at the Roger-John hotel for the city officials.

Great Plains Chilled by Cold Wave

By United Press International

Wind gusts up to 80 miles an hour hurled polar air into the great plains Saturday bringing blizzard warnings for parts of North Dakota and Minnesota.

Cold wave warnings were posted for sections of Nebraska, Montana, South Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and Missouri. A cold wave was expected to reach into Kansas Sunday and push southward to Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma.

The Arctic blast dropped temperatures 20 degrees or more in six hours, replacing near record warmth.

Fargo, N.D., had an early morning reading of 40 degrees, the first above-freezing mark since last Nov. 25, but by noon the temperature was back down to 23 degrees.

Early in the afternoon temperatures were in the 70's in much of Missouri. The mid-day reading of 63 at Kansas City was 7 degrees above that at Jacksonville, Fla. Southern California's heat wave continued with readings in the 80's.

Billings, Mont., collected two inches of snow. Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., got an inch. But the nation's snowiest city remained Detroit, Mich., with 40 inches on the ground.

K. McKinney Tops Music Auditions

Karen McKinney, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. McKinney, 2069 Rancho Vista drive, took first place Saturday in scholarship auditions at the 10th annual Junior Music festival here, with an organ solo.

She chose to audition at the state level for the Tempe award, a scholarship providing an opportunity to attend a three-week summer music camp at Arizona State college.

It includes room, board, six private lessons and all class fees except materials.

The Junior Music festival is sponsored by the Twin Falls Federated Music club. State auditions for the Tempe award will be held here May 15, Junior day of the convention of the Idaho Federation of Music Clubs. One winner is selected from the state.

Saturday's auditions also were for a scholarship to the University of Idaho summer music camp. To qualify for this award the person auditioning must be a member of one of the Junior Music clubs and must have received a superior rating in the festival, be in grades 9 to 12 and must have played in the difficult class or above.

Second in the scholarship auditions was Rob Thompson, with a piano solo; Rene Teasley, third with a piano solo; William Hoffman, cello, and David Hamilton, viola, tied for fourth.

Winner of the University of Idaho summer music camp scholarship will be announced. Participants in the festival do not compete against each other, but against a standard of excellence in achievement. Ratings given were superior, excellent, very good and good.

The festival was held in the First Methodist church and O'Leary junior high school. There were 302 solo events, including eight piano concertos, 10 string See K. McKINNEY, Pg. 6, Col. 8

Pocatello Solon Says TAG Group Is "Blowing Valuable Sales Tax Votes"

BOISE, Feb. 20—Sen. Perry Swisher, R., Bannock, a long-time advocate of the sales tax, Saturday asked the Twin Falls Tax Action for Growth (TAG) committee to "stop blowing valuable sales tax votes in the senate."

Swisher said that to the senate Republicans, TAG appears to be now a front for Democratic gubernatorial candidate Lloyd Walker.

When the sales tax platform first was in 1981, it was not clear which, according to Swisher, legislative candidates on both tickets in Bannock county were pledged to a sales tax.

"The votes of the senators from the populous counties cannot carry the day," the Bannock county senator said. "We can only if our colleagues from the smaller, less urban counties accept our contention that Idaho cannot move forward under its present tax structure—only then will our efforts succeed."

"Just what is TAG doing to help? In concert with the legislature is helping to create an intolerable climate for reasonable action."

Founders Day Meet Held by Area PTA

RICHFIELD, Feb. 20—Founders day and a look at Idaho school conditions highlighted the Thursday evening Richfield PTA meeting held at the high school.

Mrs. Elmo Patterson read a short history of the local PTA which listed benefits to the schools and community from PTA activities. Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Theo B. Brush, and Mrs. T. E. Perron, now of Shoshone, were the three Richfield women instrumental in starting a PTA at Richfield 19 years ago.

Mrs. Louis Vaughn gave the treasurer's report revealing the final payment on the new high school piano, a two-year project, had been paid.

Nominating committee elected for the March election of officers are Mrs. Eugene Freeman, Mrs. Wendell King, and Mrs. L. T. Sanders.

The fifth and sixth grades tied for February room count prizes. The junior class won for the high school. Mrs. Sanders read the PTA prayer and Cub Scouts Craig King and Danny Hawes read the flag salute.

Robert Day Carey, presented the program featuring the Idaho education film, the Idaho school dilemma. Day recounted statistics with the aid of the school opaque projector preceding the film showing.

Revealed were facts that Idaho residents spend an equal amount for liquor and education, $16,000,000. Ninety per cent of Idaho children attend public schools, and $100.00 more per child is recommended for increased funds to operate schools next year.

Percy Christensen, PTA president and high school principal, addressed Day with presenting the program, and performed introductions.

Procedure books were on display and viewed by the parents preceding the social hour. Refreshments featured the Founders day cake made and decorated by Mrs. Glenn Ross, Mrs. John W. Brown and Mrs. Richard Powell were other seventh grade room mother hostesses.

Approach to Mental Illness Outlined at Boise Conclave

Dr. Joseph Marshall and Dr. Kenneth Briggs returned this week from "task force" meetings on mental health in Boise, under the state department of public health.

Reporting to the local Mental Health council Friday, Dr. Marshall outlined a three-pronged approach to the problems of mental illness in Idaho. Immediate goals have been set for the years 1965 through 1967, to include broadening of mental health treatment services available at the community level, getting away from institutionalization as much as possible.

Intermediate goals, to transpire between 1967 and 1974, provide for adding preventative mental health services. Included in this phase would be extension of psychological and sociological education in Idaho colleges as well as activation of operational research in this field.

Dr. Marshall pointed out that all persons in state agencies working with people should have the opportunity to continue training which will lead to a more meaningful conception of the worth and responsibility of the individual in the community.

"All persons working with people, particularly the doctor, lawyer, minister, judges, educators and public assistance personnel, need to work cooperatively in re-evaluating the objectives and goals in mental health. It is obvious to everyone that these problems are on the increase in our communities, and we are in the position of doing too little, too late," Dr. Marshall said.

Taxpayers are frequently paying for the head of a family to be hospitalized at Blackfoot while at the same time paying welfare for his family in the county. With local community mental health treatment center, the individual could retain his job and support his family during treatment.

Ways of proceeding with the local mental health program following rejection of the South Central District plan by the county commissioners in January, were explored at the Friday meeting.

Simple Solution

Some legislators have been cussing and discussing the proposed three percent sales tax for Idaho, but in all the bombast, no one has come up with a workable plan to make the sales tax palatable to everyone. At the root of all the protest is the claim, perhaps valid, that a sales tax is unfair because it works the greatest hardship on low income groups, the ones who can't afford any additional tax. It's rather surprising to hear such talk coming from the very legislators who declined to even permit discussion of a bill to repeal the 10-cent-per-pound tax on oleo. While failing to protect butter from competition, the oleo tax hits hardest among low income citizens.

Well, there is a solution to what some legislators regard as the sales tax dilemma, and it doesn't involve a referendum election. All that's involved is a simple rebate to low income citizens, a rebate that undoubtedly would be quite welcome to those who received it. The rebate should be made solely on the basis of gross income.

Tying a sales tax rebate to gross income as listed on the income tax return would limit it to low income citizens; there would be no way for anyone to chisel. Perhaps the most simple way to work a sales tax rebate would be to mail checks to all taxpayers listing gross annual income of $3,200 or less. That $3,200 annual income certainly should cover all the pensioners, widows and any others involved in the struggle for the bare necessities of life.

As soon as such income tax returns were received, the state would mail the taxpayer a check in the amount of three per cent of his gross income up to a maximum payment of $48 for those filing on $1,600 gross annual income. Rebate checks would range downward by three per cent of everything over $1,600 until the $3,200 level. For example, a person with $2,000 gross income would get a rebate of $36 and the $2,400 income rebate would be $24.

There would be no red tape connected with the rebate, no questionnaires to be answered, no applications for rebate; it would be entirely automatic. The whole principle of such a system would be the assumption that everyone earning less than $3,200 annually would be spending most of the income on the necessities of life that would be covered by a sales tax.

Pensioners and other Idaho residents not required to file income tax returns could get their rebates by mailing in a simple notarized card provided by the state.

Certainly such a plan should appeal to Idaho's legislators, particularly the ones who have been bleating so loud on behalf of the citizens with low incomes. Here's a proposal geared directly to the retired couples, pensioners, widows and others with limited incomes. From the standpoint of these low-income persons, the sales tax rebate would represent an annual windfall that might permit expenditures normally out of the question.

Those legislators who have been screaming loudest for a referendum to be tied to any sales tax bill might look over the rebate proposal rather carefully. It might offer them an escape from a position that's potentially embarrassing or worse. They have assumed any sales tax referendum would result in death of the sales tax. It's a rather strong assumption that could be wrong. What would happen to a politician, who worked for the referendum, if the people refused to kill the sales tax?

Looking at the situation objectively, there's a good chance any sales tax referendum would fail. It's patently obvious that the only alternative to a sales tax is a massive increase in the income tax. Wage earners, who constitute the big majority of Idaho voters, would find themselves paying up to double—or more—income tax than they are paying now. In many cases, the increase alone would amount to more than everything they would pay under a sales tax. There's little doubt how these wage earners will vote when they realize the alternative.

The other big factor that would favor retention of a sales tax would be the money it would mean to education, or teachers, if you will. There's no doubt what would happen in the way of pressure from the forces of education if the state schedules a referendum on a sales tax. Before teachers, PTA's, school administrators and trustees are finished, it would be almost unpatriotic to vote against the sales tax because they would convince voters that a vote against the sales tax was a vote against education.

There's one other little matter on the horizon that deserves a good look from legislators, namely, an excellent chance for an initiative election aimed at killing or maiming the income tax when the referendum comes up on the sales tax. By tying an automatic three per cent rebate to the sales tax bill-legislators could sidestep the dynamite of a referendum vote while at the same time looking 10 feet high with their concern for the status of low income citizens.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY
SINGAPORE, Feb. 20—Day-by-day developments in this area of the world have a significance discernible to all but the whining defeatists in Washington and Paris. They are the meat of a campaign by Communist China to force the United States to "negotiate" Viet Nam's future on Peking's terms.

Here in Southeast Asia's most politically sophisticated city, editors, journalists and expert observers are referring to the present situation as the last act. They point out that "neutralization" is no longer a naughty word in the United States, where congress hears almost daily the arguments of those favoring a negotiated settlement. Meanwhile, France gives the arguments the respectability of its support.

SEE CHINESE WINNING—Those who predict Peking's triumph do not deny that it would be a tragedy, only that it is inevitable. Indeed, it is admitted that Peking has no intention of contributing to any real neutralism in Southeast Asia.

Even while it mouths the word, Red China continues its military and political campaign to conquer the area for communism. In naming Thailand as its next target, Peking emphasized the necessity for taking over America's staunchest Asian ally by military force.

Communist agents have been sinking into Thailand for weeks, infiltrating along the Mekong river from troubled Laos. Their mission is guerrilla warfare and terrorism, communism's classic method of taking over a country from within. There already has been scattered fighting in the northeastern provinces bordering Laos.

PHONY "FRONT"—The "Thailand Patriotic front" charged with "driving all imperialist (American) troops" out of Thailand is about as Thailand patriotic as a Moscow secret policeman. It was founded in Peking, just as the Mao regime has fathered and nourished South Viet Nam's "national liberation front."

Thus, while Paris and certain Washington circles continue to talk wistfully about negotiating with the reds, Peking on the surface will have none of it. Mao doesn't have to talk about sitting down at the conference table; he lets the West do his talking for him. He wants a "neutral" Southeast Asia because that is the easiest way to take over the area, but he naturally prefers to let the West accomplish this end.

SUBTLE STRATEGY—What is incredible to an observer on the scene is that there can still be talk about negotiating with Peking and Hanoi in the face of stepped-up communist efforts toward a military conquest of Southeast Asia. Mao and his crowd are using their military might to persuade the West that a negotiated settlement is the only way out of the situation—and the West seems willing to be convinced.

Asian communism doesn't want to fight for Southeast Asia. Its military adventures are a costly drain on its economy and so the Mao and the Ho Chi Minhs play on the American people and our appetite for the swift victory. By making the job of protecting freedom harder, they hope to convince us it's not worth the effort.

SHAPE OF THINGS TO COME
Passage of the bill to allow four-year status to Boise Junior college is an expectable outgrowth of the explosion in the college-age population and the demand for college degrees. It is also indicative of things to come in higher education in this state. The demands that will be made upon us to support these ventures will be heavy and they cannot be denied without sacrificing quality.

In the debate on the four-year bill yesterday in the senate, an Ada county legislator noted that there was no request for state funds connected with it. That statement was correct. The bill merely provided for the levying by the Boise Junior college district of one mill for upper division courses. It can be and it will be expected, however, that in future sessions of the legislature, Boise college will be seeking inclusion in the state system of higher education and asking for state funds. The same probably will be true of Twin Falls Junior college and other tax-supported institutions. Once again, this is the logical next step in the development of a statewide system of higher education, and we cannot deny it.

The next question, of course, is where we find the money for an educational venture far beyond the scope of the one we now support. It's a question that is not easily answered. In the past few years, university enrollments have been growing but appropriations for our state institutions have not been growing accordingly. We are barely able to compete, for instance, for faculty members in certain fields. At this moment, two members of one department at Idaho State university, one of whom is being paid $8,000 a year and the other $7,000, have offers to go elsewhere for $9,000 a year. Another has been offered an administrative position at nearly double his present salary. Offers such as these are difficult to turn aside, especially if they come from institutions with lighter class loads and more opportunities and facilities for vital research. We cannot expect that Idaho's fishing and hunting and its wide-open spaces will keep outstanding college instructors in the state indefinitely while other states offer them compensation more in line with their ability and worth as teachers.

It is also to be considered that institutions of higher education need libraries and books to fill them, they need classroom buildings, and they need laboratories and other facilities. If our system of higher learning is to be expanded, as it must and will be, these must be provided, and we might as well become accustomed to the idea that they will require our support.

It will be the state legislature's responsibility to vote the appropriations, of course, but it will be up to the people of Idaho to pay for what they, after all, are bringing about by producing the students and by establishing the colleges to educate them. We cannot do less than support them generously.—Idaho State Journal.

THE MYSTERY
The appearance of Ghengis Ghignis in "Mystic Persepolis" on the Soviet stage involves an interesting riddle. Why does the United States permit the Soviet Union to pirate "My Fair Lady" and countless American books while at the same time paying royalties on Soviet books published in this country?

One answer is that the United States does not know any better—hence the one-way royalty system which the Russians have enjoyed from the time of the Bolshevik revolution. Some American publishers have retaliated against the Soviet refusal to join the international copyright and patent conventions by pirating Russian books, but the others have been paying the requested royalties either through a New York agency which represents the Soviet book monopoly or foreign publishers which have entered into contracts with it.

This raises the question why American publishers and companies, instead of making any royalty payment for any Soviet book or product copied in this country, do not deposit the normal amounts due into a fund which could be used to offset royalties owed by the Soviet Union or hold them in escrow pending an eventual settlement of the problem. That is the other part of the riddle.—New York Herald Tribune.

Dear P. S.:
I have been reading lately of the efforts of local boosters and organizations to persuade new industries to locate in Twin Falls.

I was surprised in reading the T-N "Horse Industry Guide" to learn there are so many hay burners in the valley, but I think I have come up with an idea that will help the new-industry-minded folks.

This would be an ideal spot for a glue factory. It looks like there is an abundance of the first essential, raw material.

Poor Man's Plato

NEW YORK, Feb. 20—Some things we could do without:
Girls over 10 who wear dresses above their knees. Esthetes who can't appreciate anything written or painted before they were born. Night clubs so crowded that if you applaud your arm knocks a steak off the next table.
Women who think it is cute to smoke a jeweled pipe in public, but expect a man to keep lighting it for them.
Prophets who say the world soon is coming to an end. Millionaires who never pay the cab fare because they never have anything smaller than a $50 bill on them.
Any politician anywhere who wants to raise a tax for anything for any reason. Automatic dishwashers that always overflow so you have to mop the kitchen.
Hostesses who insist on telling you about their divorces, their dreams, their diets—or a new series of isometric exercises that will make you so strong you can tear a deck of cards in half with one hand.

From these, and many another, let us have rest.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20—The long shadow of a fall, ganging Tennesseean still falls across this capital. States Kefauver is not missed by the comfortable sense of a hierarchy whom he often irritated, but he is missed by a great many Americans who feel a senator's duty is larger than getting dams or defense plants for his state.

His career as a patient prosecutor searching through the maze of monopoly power in America's economy is recalled by publication of a book nearly completed before his death a year and a half ago. "In a Few Hands: Monopoly Power in America" reveals the two conspicuous qualities that made him unique in recent senate history. He had a dogged, persistent way of digging into a tangle of figures and facts to show how control over large segments of American business was held by a few men at the top of the corporate structure. The senator was the enemy of administered prices by which he meant a pricing system in vital fields—bread, drugs, automobiles, steel—that no longer responded to competition. It was free enterprise, he contended, with much of the freedom and not a little of the enterprise removed.

As chairman of the senate's monopoly subcommittee he questioned witnesses with a voice never raised above a level which at times was almost inaudible. While it was only a coincidence that his long-time friend and colleague, Sen. Albert Gore, should have come out at this time demanding an investigation into one of the most remarkable tax cases ever to be decided by an internal revenue service ruling, this is in what might be called the Tennessee tradition. Reversing a former ruling, the IRS in the Du Pont-General Motors case took action that Gore says will mean a tax saving going largely to the Du Pont family of up to 100 million dollars. Although the reversal reached some time in December is entirely legal, Gore argued that the senate finance committee should investigate whether the public interest had been served.

In the Tennessee tradition is an element of southern populism—justice for the individual and for the region, a deep-seated suspicion of the money power and their machinations. Part of it is a strong sense of the people's right to know as shown in Gore's determination to bring all the facts in the Du Pont case to light. Kefauver and Gore were with one exception the only southerners to refuse to sign the southern manifest that, as adopted by southern members of congress, served as a base of respectability for the segregationist stand.

Washington is strewn with monuments, many of them political monuments, monuments to taste and set down with little regard to appropriateness. It is highly unlikely in any foreseeable future that Kefauver will be memorialized in bronze or stone. But he has what is a more enduring monument in the Kefauver-Harris act, which sought to apply stringent controls over drugs offered for sale in the mass market with its huge profits. The drama of the thalidomide scandal helped to bring about passage of these long-needed reforms.

The subcommittee on anti-trust and monopoly is headed today by Sen. Philip A. Hart D-Mich. The opportunity a wide open to carry on where Kefauver left off, and Hart has taken the Tennesseean's lead and dedication. But the make-up of the committee is far more conservative today. The powers that be in the senate have seen to that.

Toward the end of his life certain lawyer-lobbyists closed in on Kefauver and chiseled him into an investigation into prices established by American drug firms in South America. His pessimism about the drifts toward monopoly is reflected in this posthumous book. Yet he ends with the conclusion that monopoly power will not for long be tolerated in a society in which the traditions of a free, democratic society are so deeply rooted. This was the conclusion of a public servant who went through the end asking the hard, searching questions.

Some theologians, mainly in Europe, have gone far and are urging that the church scrap the whole distinction between "natural" methods such as rhythm, which are held to be moral, and artificial methods such as the use of contraceptive devices which are held to be immoral.

Three cardinals spoke up on the subject at the recent session of the Vatican council. Cardinal Leger of Montreal said it is time to modify the whole idea, which has shaped Catholic thinking about sex since the time of St. Augustine, that procreation of children is the "primary" end of marital relations, and the expression of conjugal love merely a "secondary" end.

Cardinal Alfrink of The Netherlands observed that many good Catholic theologians no longer are convinced by traditional arguments which seek to prove that it is contrary to natural law, and therefore intrinsically evil, to "interfere" with the biological consequences of sexual acts.

Cardinal Suenens of Belgium warned the council that the church must listen to what modern science has to say about overpopulation and birth regulation. Pope Paul VI has appointed a special commission to conduct a "wide and profound" study of the whole problem of birth control. Its findings will be reported directly to the pope and will form the basis of a new papal pronouncement.

No one knows what it will say. But what ever direction it takes, it will have an enormous impact on the lives of 500 million Catholics.

The rhythm of birth control, which is approved by the Roman Catholic church, has been found to work well when it is employed by properly instructed and highly motivated couples. But efforts to introduce it among poorly educated, low-income families have not been conspicuously successful.

It's a tall order to find a method of birth control which would be safe and effective; which could be used by people who don't have indoor toilets, calendars and corner drugstores, and which would be morally acceptable to all faiths. But Dr. John Rock, one of the world's foremost authorities on birth control, says it is an order that can be filled.

Dr. Rock is a Harvard university scientist noted for his pioneering research on human reproduction. He is co-developer of the anti-ovulation pill. He says that given adequate funds for research, scientists can come up with a variety of entirely new birth control techniques which would be far better than any now in use, and which "all religious groups could accept." Dr. Rock adds that this can be done "in a remarkably short time" if the U.S. government is willing to pump enough money into the effort.

Up to now the government has not been willing to do this, although a start was made in 1959. That year, a presidential committee on foreign aid reported that rapid population growth was nullifying efforts to raise living standards in under-developed countries.

It recommended that the U.S. government support a broad program of research on human fertility and provide both technical advice and other forms of assistance to countries trying to reduce their birth rates.

But under a blast of disapproval from Catholic bishops, the administration backed off. When President Dwight D. Eisenhower was asked at a news conference whether he favored more government-sponsored research on fertility regulation, he replied quickly that he could think of nothing more "emphatically not a proper governmental function."

But things have changed. Today there exists a very substantial body of U.S. opinion in favor of positive action to cope with the world population explosion. It includes most of the major Protestant bodies, many Jewish groups and a large number of Roman Catholics.

Many Catholic theologians are writing and saying that the church can and should give its moral blessing to new methods of birth control—such as anti-ovulation pills—which are based on regulation of natural bodily processes.

NFO Official Speaks at T.F. County Meet

BUHL, Feb. 20 — The National Farmer's Organization is a challenge and an invitation stated Oras Kanerva, St. Louis county, Minn., national director for the NFO, when he addressed some 600 persons including farmers, businessmen and guests attending the annual Twin Falls county NFO benefit chili supper Thursday evening in the Buhl elementary school.

Kanerva, pointed out it is a challenge to businessmen to support and encourage the farmers in this program. "They are your customers, it's necessary for the survival of your business and the survival of the rural American farmer. It's an invitation to farmers to organize and meet the agricultural program as businessmen," he declared.

He outlined in brief the history of agriculture, what has transpired in the past few years, and some of the solutions that have been presented to help cure the ailments in agriculture. In reviewing the history of the NFO Kanerva noted it was established in 1955 and has served as a collective bargaining unit since 1958. Originating first in two states it now has a coverage of 24 states with the latest addition being Florida.

The four major facets of the NFO program outlined were, organize the farmers, get a large enough membership to be effective bargaining power, and to sign and activate contracts. In conjunction with bargaining power, he pointed out the farmer's only weapon is production. Holding action must be applied as a means of gaining contracts and in this way lend stability to the market and give the farmer a reasonable profit, he said.

The NFO has made advancements, first it has gained recognition throughout the country, and secondly has acquired contracts. Kanerva commended the local group as an active and progressive unit and placed special emphasis on efforts in marketing arrangements, noting they are actively engaged and have been successful in gaining bean contracts.

The official urged the NFO membership to be salesmen, sell more farmers, work together, market together, and benefit together. "It's time to cast away petty grievances, let's get together and assure the survival of all of us, the farmers," he said.

Other special guests introduced were William Hepworth, Rupert, national NFO board member, and Ernest Stitt, Paul, state president. E. B. (Bill) Hicks, president of the Twin Falls county unit, presided over the event.

Andy Anderson, local businessman, served as master of ceremonies. Other entertainment included selections by "The Legends," a Buhl high school hootenanny group, and vocal-instrumental numbers by "The String Alongers" from Twin Falls. Numerous prizes were given away during the evening, compliments of Buhl merchants.

Bridge Club Winners Noted

The Twin Falls junior duplicate bridge club met Friday night at Burgess hall with seven tables in play.

Ski Classes Planned by Burley Lions

BURLEY, Feb. 20 — The third annual children's ski races will begin at 11 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 27 at the Pomerelle ski area, sponsored by the Burley Lions club.

General chairman Jack Holland announced today the races are open to all boys and girls in the Mini-Cassia area.

The five classes of races to be run are pee-wee, novice, intermediate, junior and senior.

There will be a small charge, Holland stated. Trophies will be awarded to first place winners in all five divisions. Medals will be awarded to second and third place winners in all five classes of races.

Last year 104 children from the Mini-Cassia area took part in the ski races. It took 40 Burley Lions and their wives to plan and operate the ski races last year.

The slalom poles, flags, two-way radios and stop watches have been purchased over the years by the Burley Lions club to further the youth activities program.

All children entering the ski races are requested to register with Jack Holland or William Parsons, before Saturday. Each racer entering must have a waiver signed by both parents at time of registering.

Scientists Study Great Wind Blowing From Sun in Space

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP) — Out in space a great wind is blowing from the sun. It is not like an earthly wind, but is made up of protons and alpha particles, and is propelled outward by the sun's energy at a speed of 200 to 300 miles per second.

When these particles reach the vicinity of the Earth, strange things begin to happen. The Earth itself is a huge magnet and this has a profound effect on its environment.

Space scientists, probing with specialized and highly sophisticated satellites and orbiting laboratories, are now able to draw a pretty clear picture of what happens to the solar wind when it strikes the Earth.

Officials of the national aeronautics and space administration told congress about it last week when they appeared before the house space committee to support NASA's request for $2 billion dollars in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The first reaction occurs about 55,000 miles away from Earth.

In the direction of the sun there the solar wind first touches on the Earth's magnetic field and forms a sort of shock wave that curves back on each side of the globe in a parabolic shape.

That boundary separates the undisturbed solar wind of space from the turbulent inside region disordered by the magnetic field. It was discovered by Explorer 18.

About 40,000 miles from Earth in the same direction is another front called the magnetospheric boundary. This was observed by Explorers 12 and 14.

The region between these two boundaries is now being measured with instruments on Explorers 18 and 21, and also with a satellite called OGO1. The letters stand for orbiting geophysical observatory.

Another satellite mapping these mysteries is called IMP, or interplanetary monitoring probe.

He was born March 26, 1906, in Hoppeston, Ill. He resided in Denver for the past 13 years and worked for the citizen's mission there for four years. He also worked as a guard for a year and a half at the Denver National Bank. He was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Survivors include his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gattahall, Twin Falls.

Both OGO and IMP are in long cigar-shaped orbits, bringing them close around Earth at one end of the cigar and far out in space at the other end.

Closer to the Earth are several fixed belts of electrons called the Van Allen belts. They were among the first of these phenomena discovered when the United States began exploring the near reaches of space.

Elsewhere there have been observed regions of intense electron fluxes which are now permanent.

Former Buhl Man Taken by Death

Funeral services for Charles A. Buhl, 69, former Buhl resident, who died Feb. 12, in Denver, Colo., are scheduled for 2 p.m. Monday at White mortuary chapel with the Rev. Elmer E. Richardson officiating. Final rites will be held in Twin Falls cemetery.

He was born March 26, 1906, in Hoppeston, Ill. He resided in Denver for the past 13 years and worked for the citizen's mission there for four years. He also worked as a guard for a year and a half at the Denver National Bank. He was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Survivors include his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gattahall, Twin Falls.

Sun Valley Man Unhurt in Wreck

A 22-year-old Sun Valley man escaped serious injury Thursday afternoon when a fire on the truck he was driving blew out, causing him to lose control of the vehicle, which rolled over.

Tommy Mallane, Jr., 22, Sun Valley, was driving a 1955 GMC pickup truck on highway 93 just north of Halley when the left rear tire of the truck blew out. Mallane lost control of the vehicle and it traveled into a snow bank on the east side of the highway, then rolled over.

Damage was estimated at $550 to the truck but no citation was reported issued by the investigating Idaho state police officer.

Changes Noted For Oil Company

Several personnel changes were announced Saturday for the Twin Falls district of American Oil company by H. G. Woodall, district manager.

R. J. Watson, formerly sales representative-retail at Boise, has been promoted to senior district analyst for Twin Falls.

R. L. Skrederstu, formerly merchandiser at Salt Lake City, has been promoted to field sales manager-retail in Twin Falls, and R. O. Hessel, assistant to the Twin Falls district manager, has been transferred to the regional office in Salt Lake City.

New Lookout Is Built in Challis Area

CHALLIS, Feb. 20 (Special) — Twin Peaks lookout, located 14 miles northwest of Challis, received a face-lifting during the past summer. Ranger Don Owen reports that construction of the new two-story building is nearly completed. He said the old building was no longer serviceable.

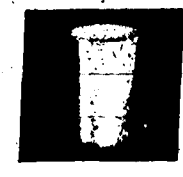

The modern two-story building replaces the one-story building constructed about 1930. The lower portion of the new structure is made of cinder blocks for the purpose of weatherproof storage. The work area and living quarters are combined in the upper half of the building constructed of wood.

Large frame windows on the upper floor provide unobstructed vision for continuous observation and fire detection. Early next summer minor finishing work will be completed and the new building will be ready for occupancy.

The old building was moved about 40 feet to the east so the new dwelling could be constructed on the original building site. The old structure served as living quarters for the lookout, Bruce Nelson and his wife, Krisa, during the construction of the new building.

Owen recalls hearing Henry Holverson comment that the old building seemed to have a hard time holding on to its rock pin-nacle during strong winds. Holverson and his wife, Esther, were steady residents on Twin Peaks for many years.

Twin Peaks is the highest manned lookout in the Intermountain region of the forest service and is accessible by a one-way spur road off the Sleeping Deer road.

Issue Is, Will State Spend More Money

By EARLE L. JESTER
BOISE, Feb. 20—The issue before the Idaho legislature isn't so much whether the state wants a sales tax. Primarily, it is whether the state will spend more money.
Estimates of revenue that will be available for general fund purposes in the two years beginning next July 1, if no change is made in Idaho's tax structure, vary widely.
The house revenue and taxation committee uses a figure of 105 million dollars. Gov. Robert E. Smylie, in his budget message, said 101 million dollars would be available. Don I. Walker, the state budget director, figures it at about 98.5 million dollars.
If the latter estimate is right, then expenditures—without tax increases—would have to be held at the level of the present biennium, which is about five percent less than was appropriated two years ago by the 1963 legislature.
If the governor's estimate is used, then spending can be at about the same rate as the 1963 legislature anticipated, 101.9 million dollars. Actual spending was cut back by order of the governor, with approval of the board of examiners, when it appeared the figures used by the 1963 legislature were too optimistic.
If the revenue and taxation committee's estimate is used, then the 105-million dollar total would permit spending of about eight million dollars more than expenditures for the present two-year period.
Proposed budgets—even that presented by the so-called economy bloc in the senate—are far beyond all of those figures.
The economy bloc suggests a two-year budget of 119 million dollars. The joint finance appropriations committee proposes a total of 131.7 million dollars. The governor recommends 134.8 million dollars.

Racial Study Reported on Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 20 (UPI)—The U. S. civil rights commission ended an exhaustive probe of Mississippi's racial status today and declared while some progress has been made, the state still faces "extremely serious" voting and law enforcement problems.

Commission Chairman John A. Hannah, in a closing statement, said he hoped "the voice of moderation now being heard after a long silence will begin speaking clearly and forcefully for a progressive Mississippi."

"It seems clear that, despite some encouraging signs of change, many of Mississippi's Negro citizens continue to face extremely serious and unwarranted denials in voting and law enforcement," said Hannah, president of Michigan State University.

He said some whites "in far too many counties" appeared bent on denying voting rights to Negroes by using discriminatory standards in registration tests, or intimidation and violence.

During the hearing, the commission heard scores of Negroes testify about a wave of beatings, bombings, church-burnings and shootings over the state. But Hannah said the commission's major interest was "the present status and future prospects of civil rights in Mississippi rather than an exhaustive and largely profile-review of past injustices."

The prelate, 69, close associate of the late President John F. Kennedy, was reported in good condition following the surgery.

French, U.S. Talks Ended In Capital

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (UPI)—Sharply differing U. S. and French views on the possibility of a negotiated settlement in the Viet Nam anti-communist war were aired, debated and dissected during three days of U. S.-French talks which wound up here today.

The practical outcome appeared to be nil. The Johnson administration stuck to its position that Viet Nam negotiations are out of the question until North Viet Nam ceases aggression against its southern neighbor.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville scheduled a final meeting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk late Saturday, following talks Thursday and Friday with French President Charles de Gaulle in Paris later this year if a mutually satisfactory time could be arranged.

Couve de Murville was said to have renewed de Gaulle's standing invitation for a John-

Foods of Nine Nations Featured at Area Event

By MARLEY DOUGLASS

RUPERT, Feb. 20—More than 500 persons from the entire Magic Valley area sampled foods of nine nations during the annual international buffet, sponsored by the women of the St. Anne's Altar society of the St. Nicholas Catholic parish, Rupert.

Flags and mementos of the various nations were featured at each table. Waitresses were attired in the native dress of their particular country, with many of the items being brought from the "old country" by their owners.

Mrs. Wendell Johnson and Mrs. Ramon Goliandia were general chairmen for the buffet, with Mrs. Harry Workman in charge of decorations. Dining room arrangements were directed by Mrs. Joe Flood and Mrs. James Renfro.

All foods served were homemade by the women of the parish for the nationality they represented. Foods served were American, Basque, French, German, Hawaiian, Irish, Mexican and Polish.

Members of the local Knights of Columbus, directed by Ronald Gerleman, poured coffee and washed dishes during the evening. It turned out to be a family affair with boys of the parish clearing away dishes and taking them to the kitchen.

Chairmen of the various tables and the main dishes served included American, Mrs. Ronald Gerleman and Dr. and Mrs. Jerry Ennis. The table featured roast beef and tossed green salad; Basque, Mrs. Alex Otasua, Mrs. Jean P. Etcheverry and Mrs. Frank Jougard, dishes included roast pork loin, baked halibut and cream roll; French table, Mrs. Ernest Giraud, Mrs. H. J. St. Marie, Mrs. Pierre Peyron, Jr. and Mrs. Damain Henschel, leg of lamb, asparagus with sauce and chocolate eclairs.

German table chairmen included Mrs. Carl Henschel, Mrs. Cletus Bubel and Mrs. Ed Schuch, serving German sausage, red cabbage and black bread and, for dessert, apple cake.

Mrs. James Goodman and Mrs. Costa Dells were chairmen of the Hawaiian table, which featured roast pig, with dressing, served by John Trevino, and cranberry salad. The Irish table featured corned beef and cabbage, parsley potatoes and blarney stones, with Mrs. Leo Becker and Mrs. Dell Asson as chairmen.

Mrs. Max Herbold and Mrs. Albert Asson were chairmen of the Italian table, which featured veal scampioni, potato dumplings, rye bread and Italian crispies. The Polish table, with Mrs. Edward Stefan and Mrs. Andy McRoberts as chairmen, featured kapusk (cabbage and meat balls), peroggi (filled rolls) and dessert wafers.

A variety of Mexican food was served at that table, with Benita Triston as chairman.

In international dinner, pioneered in the Rupert parish, has

MAYOR AND MRS. WENDELL JOHNSON, Rupert, try to decide from the many choices of foods at the international dinner held in Rupert. The portion of the table shown is that representing France. Foods served at the international dinner included American, Basque, French, German, Hawaiian, Irish, Mexican, Italian and Polish. Mrs. Johnson was general co-chairman of the dinner. been used throughout other Idaho parishes and proved successful.

The Rupert Altar society has served a successful raffle dinner for many years and the idea of the international buffet was born following a discussion of one such dinner.

One of the members suggested having an Irish dinner due to Irish members, another suggested they might also serve a French or German dinner. The group decided to combine all nationalities with the international buffet. The buffet has been presented successfully for five years in the local parish.

Each year the St. Anne's Altar society contributes thousands of dollars towards the parochial school, parish hall and convent, which have been constructed during the past seven years. The first international dinner was held in the present school building, and three years ago work was completed on the parish hall, where all church activities are held. The basement is used for the Knights of Columbus activities.

Other projects sponsored by the Catholic women throughout the year include the annual carnival, raffle, Basque and harvest dinners. Many organizations and clubs in the Rupert area take advantage of the good cooking provided by the society for their various functions.

All members of the Altar society contribute time towards the various church functions and groups are in charge of activities of the parish for a two-month period, not necessarily consecutively. Much time is contributed by each of the members of the parish to the success of the various events.

Wig Saves Day, Every Day, for Tully's Bride

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Molly Tully, Arabelle's bride, is accompanying him on his honeymoon trip to Southeast Asia.)

By MOLLY TULLY
SINGAPORE, Feb. 20—There's just one thing about Arabelle—she does constitute an entire piece of luggage by herself, and there was already enough to remember with two suitcases, a typewriter, camera, the tapestry rug and a couple of reindeer.

We thought we had it all worked out so that each of us carried two things, the suitcases being swept away to the baggage compartment. However, after a month in Saigon, we accumulated enough debris to justify an additional Pan Am bag and that was the problem. So inevitably Arabelle's box was left in the coat rack on the plane on our arrival in Singapore.

It was a traumatic moment when I spotted the plane's stewardess carrying her to the customs authorities. When we frantically waved to indicate she belonged to us, he strode over and gallantly bowed, "Your wig, Madame."

Otherwise, Arabelle has been a blessing on the trip, coming to the rescue after an afternoon of diving into the surf in Honolulu, or upon unexpectedly being invited to dinner by some general in Saigon, with no time for the hairdresser. Arabelle is there, sitting patiently in her box, waiting to be called upon to save the day!

Of course there are those, particularly members of my Quaker family, who think Arabelle makes me look like a lady of easy virtue. But I can't help it if she turned out to be tinted red instead of the blond "coup de soleil" I ordered. She just refused to streak out any lighter, so I'm stuck with her.

My husband, who in most ways is an authentic 20th century man, is more tolerant of Arabelle, and I think secretly has grown quite fond of her, in a somewhat paternal way. However, I notice that whenever she appears in society, he invariably laughs hollowly and says, "You'd never suspect Molly was wearing a wig, would you?"

There are various reactions to this revelation. Some people flush, murmur "No, never" and quickly change the subject so as not to embarrass me. Those with perhaps a more liberated outlook are genuinely enthusiastic and usually want me to take her off so they can see what it's like underneath. Naturally I demur and say to myself, "If I'd wanted you to see what was underneath, I wouldn't have worn her!"

But mostly Arabelle goes unnoticed and I presume unremarked upon. Of course, people must wonder just how many times my husband has stashed her upstairs when he appears to the hotel dining room one night with a blonde and the next with a redhead! And believe me, here's very little resemblance.

The most fun about Arabelle is that she gives me a whole new personality. When I don my wig immediately (according to my husband, at least) take on airs of gravity and sophistication otherwise unsuspected in the real me. He claims I become saucy, terribly clever, and toward the end of the evening even a bit "fuddy" when I'm wearing Arabelle. The personality change is rather fun. It's like speaking a foreign language—the same personality differences in the voice, the gestures and the attitude!

On the whole, Arabelle has behaved quite well and despite her being a bother to lug about and taking hours to comb (Andy claims it takes me longer to comb than me), I wouldn't think of traveling without her.

Writer Urges People to Fight Approval of Education Bill

Editor, Times-News:
Fellow Americans, look into the well and act to save our school system.
The education bill which is to be railroaded through congress will put our education system in control of the communists, lock stock and barrel.
As it stands at present time, United Nations educational, scientific and cultural organization (UNESCO) has been infiltrating our schools with liberal ideas contrary to Americanism and is being thrown out of the schools in some areas where people have awakened to the dangers of communism or liberalism.
They could weed UNESCO out because of the state control of the schools, but with the liberal U.S. government, the people will

Interpretation of Sales Tax Figures Is Requested

Editor, Times-News:
The Times-News likes to interpret facts and figures. How about interpreting some of those listed in your front page story explaining the sales and use tax bill now before the legislature?
The article lists tax relief provisions of the bill as follows:
"A $10 credit per exemption would be provided. State income tax rates would be lowered to provide a 15 million dollar reduction in personal income taxes and 20 million dollars relief in property taxes."
Your story indicates these would be annual savings. If this were true the state would end up some 40 million dollars worse off than it now is. I'll assume the writer meant to insert the word "biennium" somewhere in the article but just didn't get around to it.
A $10 credit for each of Idaho's 60,000 personal exemptions totals $600,000 each year, or $13-

Official Writer Says Piece By Columnist Is Misleading

Editor, Times-News:
In your Feb. 1 issue columnist Henry J. Taylor states that I "admitted the government has borrowed every last nickel in the social security reserve fund and spent it." He went on to say, "The entire $22 billion has been blown."
This is an extremely misleading statement and one which could cause considerable concern among the millions of social security beneficiaries and the many millions more who will become beneficiaries in the future. For this reason I ask that you publish my comments on Mr. Taylor's statement, as follows:
The assets of the social security trust-funds must, of course, be invested. It would be neither feasible nor desirable to hold them in cash and lose the interest they could earn.
The law therefore provides for their investment and restricts such investment to the purchase of securities issued or guaranteed by the federal government, first, to insure the safety of the funds, and second, because the investment of such large sums in private business ventures would have a significant effect on the

Suggestion That Area Use Federal Funds Is Blasted

Editor, Times-News:
Your editorial "Reverse Economy" advocated getting our snouts in the trough because the money will be spent anyway.
Your writer said, "Anyone who objects to reckless federal expenditures isn't going to save one cent working from the bottom of the ladder." But, if people count down stop requesting federal funds, less money can be dispersed by federal authorities.
"Businessmen," your writer stated, "...submit bids (for socialistic projects) knowing full well if they don't, plenty of others will." If my neighbor steals, shall I aid him in his theft? Does his wrongful act justify mine?
"It would appear that unless some principle of federal supervision is involved, it's only good sense to use whatever federal funds are available." Repeatedly the supreme court has ruled that dispersing federal funds without federal controls is

Need to Settle Differences Without War Seen by Writer

Editor, Times-News:
I wonder how many mothers of the area, also the nation, are again reliving the horror and sadness of the week of Feb. 19, 1945? I too, lost a fine son on the date while on a bombing mission with the marine corps, of which he was justly proud to be a member. As in many cases he never knew the actual facts, whether he was taken prisoner or

Unitarian Raps Interpretation of Advertisement

A copy of the Buhl Jaycees' letter to the editor on Unitarianism has just now been called to my attention.
It amazed me that such an intelligent and responsible organization could so misinterpret our advertisement. Putting paragraph three from the Unitarian side by side with the interpretation by the Jaycees they read: "Do you believe in the brotherhood of man, irrespective of nation, race, or creed?" and "That the Russian who believes in communism is just as right as we who believe in democracy."
By the widest stretch of the imagination, are these statements synonymous?
The same Unitarian advertisement has appeared in thousands of newspapers and in every state in the Union and to our knowledge never has been so wrongly interpreted.
We wish the Jaycees would read the words as they appeared rather than distort them with a meaning not apparent nor intended.

Recreation Unit Aide Notes Error In Park Article

Editor, Times-News:
I would like to at this time make a correction to a statement in Sunday's edition of the Times-News concerning the development plans for Niagara Springs picnic area.
The article stated that G. M. Gehrke was chairman of the Magic Valley recreational council and that there were some plans for changing the name of Niagara Springs park.
I am sure there was no intent on the part of anyone to misrepresent anything, it was just a mistake, but Mr. Melvin is chairman of the Magic Valley recreation association and the plans were not to change the park's name, but to erect a fountain memorial to the honor of the deceased Emerson Pugmire who did such an outstanding job in developing the site.
This memorial is fitting and proper and I am all for it, but in no way would I, or any other member of the council that I know of, be in favor of changing the name of the park.

Uncle of Writer Says Whole Tale Of Tax Not Told

Editor, Times-News:
Uncle Ward Heiler blew in again last week with some findings and predictions regarding the proposed sales tax in Idaho.
First, though, I should tell more about Uncle Ward. He's been around a long time. He has the means, the time, the inclination and a talent for independent grass roots public relations.
He talks real low but listens intently, all the time peering in the corners and behind doors. He goes forth without preconceived notions to prove or disprove.
Uncle Ward says there's an ominous threat...that is more widespread than generally acknowledged by the press and some politicians. It is his prediction that the political complexion in Idaho will be reversed from conservative to a liberal philosophy. Such a tax measure will again be rejected by the people and this time names of individuals and organizations will be remembered. The inarticulate and unorganized will be heard with force and effectiveness for a long, long time.
All this despite Governor Smylie's assurance the people will passively accept the sales tax which he will sign if and when it reaches his desk.
That's what Uncle Ward tells me!

heart is rent.
My faith, my courage all but spent.
And still I would not seek it otherwise.
I would not bid him stay, lest he despoil
The pleading hands that hold him from behind the strife.
In which he seeks fulfillment of his life.
And if I could I'd only those few years
Of our companionship and all the tears,
I spent in that lone hour when day is done
Are for myself, I have not lost a son.

Editorial Attack on Murphy Rapped by Shoshone Writer

Editor, Times-News:
Your recent editorials attacking Sen. Jack M. Murphy seem unwarranted and unjust.
In my opinion Mr. Murphy is representing the citizens of Lincoln county, the thing for which he was sent to Boise. He is giving an opinion that might allow the citizens of the state to express their views through a referendum vote that might take place before July when otherwise if a petition for referendum is filed after adjournment of the state legislature, it would be the next biennial election before we would know whether or not we had a sales tax law.
The fact that a big noise has been made by some citizens of the state does not mean the majority of us are in accordance with their thinking. A majority of the persons with whom I have talked feel the saturation point has been reached in taxation. The evils of too much taxation need not be discussed, as there is plenty of historical evidence on this matter.
We should turn to Idaho code 34-1803 entitled referendum. It all seems to boil down to interpretation of this law.
I have watched with admiration the number of times Mr. Murphy has received support from the higher court on his interpretation of the law.
He has shown his ability. Supreme court rulings in his favor would look good on any attorney's record.
By contrast to your description of Mr. Murphy, I have found him competent and capable.
It is time for all of us to stand up and speak up and to keep some of the business of our communities in our own hands. We don't require more services. We might like to vote on taxes assessed us. We might like to have a voice in where those taxes are spent.

Burley Man Sings Praises Of Hospital Insurance Bill

Editor, Times-News:
It is well known that we now have no general health insurance plan in operation for the aged. They must depend upon their own savings or private insurance. This is not satisfactory because the only very small percentage have either the necessary savings or private insurance to care for old age sickness.
The King-Anderson bill, now before congress, provides hospital insurance for persons over 65 who are eligible for social security retirement benefits. The premium rates on this insurance are very low, but the benefits provided are quite extensive. For only one and one-half days' average hospital charge, in addition to the premiums paid, the bill now provides all the following services:
(a) Sixty days in a hospital for a benefit period.
(b) Sixty days in some convalescent home after leaving hospital.
(c) Home health services, such as visiting nurse, up to 240 visits a year.
(d) Outpatient hospital diagnostic services such as x-ray and laboratory services.
Premiums: The cost of all these benefits, to the wage-earner, is so small it is hard to believe. Commencing for 1966, the income earner will pay three-tenths of one per cent of his earnings. Thus $3 for each $1,000 of earnings will be increased to $4.50 after 1970. This is all there is to it. An unbelievable bargain for wage earners and small business people.
Don't be longer misled as to the cost of this social security insurance for the aged. Get copy of the bill, clip and send this letter to our social security manager, for confirmation of facts.
Get this in mind, too: Social security hospital insurance is not to help the aged poor. Quite different. This insurance is to keep folks from being poor, destitute and dependent at retirement age. It is to make them independent, dignified and happy during declining years.

Teen-Age Drinking Starts in Home, Buhl Woman Believes

Editor, Times-News:
I have just finished reading an article on teen-age drinking. It usually starts in the home. Many parents keep beer in their refrigerators at all times and kids will naturally help themselves.
Some parents even say it is okay for teen-agers to drink a little, that it is part of growing up. It is like giving a tiny tot a very sharp pointed knife and saying "you may play with this, but be careful you don't fall and run it through your body."
Minors are supposed to be kept out of saloons and I do call them "saloons," but they can be seen going into them regularly. In fact they boast they can get liquor any time they want it.
Those so-called liquor control laws don't seem to mean a thing. They are not enforced. Some of those teen-agers probably have nice, decent parents who don't drink, but are working and don't know what their kids are doing.
But no doubt many of them have social drinking parents and some even have alcoholic parents. I have been reading church magazines and they say one in 10 so-called social drinkers become alcoholics.
We now have millions of them; perhaps not many of them meant to become alcoholics but they started taking just a little and

Charles Builds 5-Stroke Lead In Tucson Open

TUCSON, Arizona, Feb. 20 (AP)—Lanky Bob Charles fired his third straight brilliant round, a five-under-par 67, today to give him a five-stroke advantage going into Sunday's final of the $46,000 Tucson open golf tournament. The 28-year-old New Zealander pulled

Weber Takes Easy Win in Thunderbird

WICHITA, Kans., Feb. 20 (AP)—Dick Weber easily downed fellow St. Louisian Nelson Burton, Jr., today for the championship of the Professional Bowlers' association Thunderbird open.

Weber came into the tournament as the leading money winner this year in the PBA, and the $5,000 first place prize money boosted his earnings over the $23,000 mark.

Burton fell to Weber by 41 pins, losing 218 to 177. Burton earned the right to try for the championship by downing Ray Bluth, another St. Louis pro, and Sam Baca, Hayward, Calif., in round robin competition.

Weber got off to a fast start in the final game with four strikes. Burton bogged down with three games and a split.

After falling victim to the 3-7 split, Weber came back with two strikes, a spare and conversion of a split in the ninth, to assure his victory.

Burton won $2,500 for second place. Bluth cashed in for $1,500 and Baca $1,300.

away from second round challengers Tom Shaw and Jim Ferrell, but veteran Al Geiberger replaced the youngsters as chief contender.

Geiberger shot a 66 to knock six strokes off par and put him 10 under for the tournament. Tommy Jacobs also carded a 66 to move into contention at 207, nine strokes under par. Bert Weaver, with a 68, and Linel Hebert, with a 69, were tied at 208. Dick Siker was one stroke back at 209 and another stroke behind him were Bill Casper, Jr. and Lou Graham, a rookie from Nashville, Tenn., who fired 66.

British open champ Tony Lema was still another stroke back at 211. He had 71 Saturday.

Shaw shot a 74 and also stood at 211. Ferrell, who had two previous rounds of 69, soared to an 80 and dropped 17 strokes off the pace.

Charles, the 1963 British open champion and the only lefty ever to win a U.S. pro tournament, preceded his 67 with rounds of 65 and 69 on the Tucson National Golf club course, a 7,200-yard desert layout with giant greens.

Charles' 65 Thursday gave him a first round lead, and he has been in command since. He threatens to become the first man to score a wire-to-wire tournament win since Dan Sikes did it in the Sahara Invitational last October.

Charles, who hadn't three-putted a green in six previous competitive rounds, waited until the 18th hole to do it Saturday. He sent his first putt from 40 feet about seven feet past the pin and missed coming back.

For the first time in the tournament he missed a green. His tee shot on the ninth hole strayed into the rough and landed next to a small tree.

"I might have sliced the ball up on the green with a wood," he said. "But I decided to play it safe and hit an iron up in front of the green."

From there he chipped to within five feet of the cup and holed his putt for a par 4.

NFL Is Not Concerned With AFL

PALM DESERT, Calif., Feb. 20 (AP)—The National Football league is simply not concerned with its younger rival, the American Football league.

The NFL is based on the actions of the NFL owners as they concluded winter sessions and headed home today. A common draft of player talent?

"I asked the owners if they were interested and none of them were," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle, who admitted he asked the owners the question only because the matter had been stirred up by the news media.

A championship game between the two leagues?

"It wasn't even mentioned," said Rozelle.

The fact that even the initials of the AFL had been mentioned in a formal NFL meeting was perhaps significant, but Rozelle didn't see it quite that way.

The NFL owners, he observed, are aware of the presence of the other league.

"There have been poolside discussions about the AFL but the impression was left that the AFL can go its way, the NFL its way."

The NFL owners, in another decision, agreed to meet with the NFL Players association representatives in April to thrash out their various problems.

400-Yard Race Worth $200,000

RUIDOSO, N.M., Feb. 20 (AP)—Plans were announced today for the 1966 All-American futurity in which the winning quarter horse could earn a $200,000 purse for a 400-yard race at Ruidoso Downs.

The Ruidoso Racing association said the total purse will be $400,000 for the eighth annual futurity for two-year-old quarter horses. A total of 520 horses have been nominated for the race which will be run Labor day in 1966.

The 17th annual Ruidoso thoroughbred futurity, to be run Aug. 2, will have a purse of $100,000 with 124 horses nominated. The purse is up $40,000 over 1964.

WIDENER HANDICAP WINNER Primordial 2nd with Sandino Hernandez up won the $100,000 race at Hialeah park Saturday by one and one-half lengths in front of Hot Dust (on the rail) with Steve Brooks in the saddle. Your Alibahal, outside, was third. Hot Dust and Your Alibahal was a stable entry. (AP wirephoto)

Primordial 2nd Takes Widener Handicap

MIAMI, Feb. 20 (AP)—Primordial 2nd put on a great stretch run, then survived a claim of foul in winning the $135,600 Widener handicap today at Hialeah before the Florida racing season's biggest crowd, 31,587.

Hot Dust was second, half length behind the winner, and Your Alibahal was third. Tbalido finished fourth in the 12-horse field.

Going Abroad, the 8-5 favorite as an entry with Valiant Man, was fifth, followed by Point du Jour, Chateaugay, Knightly Manner, Purser, Sunstruck, Valiant Man and Plave.

Jockey Larry Adams on Your Alibahal claimed Primordial 2nd, under Sandino Hernandez, interfered with his horse at the head of the stretch, but the claim was not allowed.

Primordial 2nd, one of three Argentine horses in the race, paid $20.80, $12.20 and $8.20. Hot Dust and Your Alibahal returned $19.80 and $19.20 as an entry.

Primordial 2nd was last out of the gate and trailed the field for the first half-mile. But the horse began to move-up and was seventh after a mile in the one and one-quarter-mile feature.

Turning into the stretch he was one and one-half lengths behind Tbalido, but quickly wrested the lead and won in 2:03 3-5.

Primordial 2nd carried 118 pounds to 120 each on Going Abroad, Sunstruck and Chateaugay, but this time was the slowest for the Widener since Four Freedoms won in 2:04 3-5 in 1944.

"This is the biggest race I've won," Hernandez said. "I rode the way I was told to, letting my horse settle in stride. He circled the field and at the three-sixteenth pole Adams' horse (Your Alibahal) came out on me and brushed my horse. I didn't bother his horse, I felt I had the race won at the quarter pole."

Hernandez said he had not raced the horse before and got the mount only when Heliodoro Gustines wasn't available. Gustines rode Purser.

Primordial 2nd is a chestnut 8-year-old and the first foreign bred horse to win the Widener.

Santiago Ledwith, who both owned and trained Primordial, said he was bought in the yearling sales in Argentina for between $4,000 and 5,000 in American money.

Ledwith said the horse will add in Florida for the $100,000 added Gulfstream park handicap next month. He said the horse is not eligible for breeding.

U. S. Sweeps Compulsory Round of Skate Tourney

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Peggy Fleming, Pasadena, Calif., held a surprising lead today after the compulsory figures phase of women's singles at the 1965 North American figure skating championships.

The two-time U.S. champion overcame an early deficit in edging Valerie Jones, 16, and Petra Burka, 18, both of Toronto, for first place.

The United States wound up the day with a clean sweep of the compulsory round as Vivian and Ronald Joseph, Highland Park, Ill., took home pairs lead and Lorna Dyer and John Carrell, Seattle, forged into the lead in ice dancing.

A victory in any of the four events would be the first for the Americans in international competition since the 1961 air crash that wiped out the U.S. team en route to the world championships. Last year Canada swept all four North American titles.

Miss Fleming had nine original placement points and 691.9 total points, compared to 12 original and 691.8 for the second-place Miss Jones. Miss Burka, who still remains the favorite to win the title, finished third with 13 original and 688.6 points.

The figures count 60 per cent toward the title but Sunday afternoon's free skating finals will make up the remaining 40 per cent.

It is almost an identical situation to men's singles in which Gary Visconti, Detroit, Donall Knight, Toronto, and Scott Allen, Smoke Rise, N. J., are virtually tied for the lead.

The free skating in men's singles, pairs and ice dancing also are scheduled Sunday.

The panel of five judges split its first-place votes among four skaters in the women's singles.

Oakley Stuns Bobcats With Late Surge

BURLEY, Feb. 20—The Oakley Hornets came from behind in the final quarter tonight to stun the Burley Bobcats 53-50 in an intra-Cassia county non-league game.

The defeat came just 24 hours after Burley enjoyed its finest night by beating ranked Blackfoot 69-63, behind the scoring of Terry Jones and Jeff Hanes.

Saturday night the Bobcats burst into a 16-6 first quarter lead and held sway from that point through the third quarter when they were on top 41-38. Burley stayed just in front until four minutes remained in the game. Then Oakley pulled into a tie and followed up with another quick bucket. Burley never recovered.

Williams Hits 31 To Pace 53-49 Overtime Victory

Kirk Williams hit 31 points, seven of them in overtime Saturday night, to lift the Twin Falls Bruins to a 53-49 victory over the Pocatello Indians. The game was as close as the score with Twin Falls once managing an eight-point lead in the third quarter after Pocatello had built up a five-point margin within seconds after the second-half tip. Williams and Pocatello's Larry Holmes put on a tremendous outside shooting display. Williams outscored Holmes 31-18 simply because he shot much more often.

FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY
All-American, all-conference and all-star teams always raise stern disapproval. Mostly they are a one-man choice. Taking the bit in the teeth here is one man's choice for the basketball supermen of Magic Valley this year.

All-District
Two names immediately pop into mind and these are the surest picks in the district. One must go to 6-foot, 4-inch Ron Adamson, the all-everything star at Gooding high school even though he is just a junior. The tall Senator broke into varsity action with a bang as a freshman at tournament time two years ago and has only become better.

His counterpart as a unanimous choice is Kirk Williams, a 6-foot, 1-inch senior out of Twin Falls. Williams, rated the best thing out of Twin Falls for several years by many, led the Bruins to a winning season. Without him it would have been much different.

Glenns Perry contributed Leo McGhee, another 6-foot, 4-inch, to the starting five. McGhee averaged 17 points per game and would have been better than he was if a hip injury hadn't cost him all his junior year of experience.

Still running to centers, one has to go with Brian Ward, Murtaugh, because he can do a dozen things well. He centered for the Devils this year and his jumping ability, despite his 6-foot, 1-inch frame, will be legendary in the Murtaugh area for years.

But Brian as an underclassman was a better outside scorer than he ever was inside. He could play guard as easily as forward and never hurt the team.

The fifth man is the in-and-out Terry Jones, Burley, who rates the nod due to his ball handling ability, based on his sometimes tremendous shooting this year and his much better gunning of a year ago.

On the second five we're as surprised as you to find a sophomore—Ron Knowles, Dietrich. Knowles' lateral quickness is the talk of the district. At the other guard spot is Gooding's Ron Silva, a very confident, gum-chewing youngster who complemented Adamson like ham does.

Outside men dominate the second choice as insiders did the first. Going on the unit is Valley guard-forward Lawrence Huettig, the imperturbable. The other forward is brash Terry Sims, Glenns Perry, a 6-foot, 1-inch senior whose biggest victory this year, coaches say, was maintaining control of himself at all times. This composure lifted him out of the erratic class and into a 14-point per game producer.

The fifth spot on the club is earned on defensive ability and it goes to Jerome's Stan Millard. Not the big scorer, Millard, who is a twin brother and that makes it tough splitting, took the other team's top scorer night after night and generally performed well.

There is dreaming of the elusive typical game, nine points difference between the two clubs, although the second unit is definitely giving away height. The first team would average 84 points against 75 for the second. But it is doubted if the teams played 25 teams the scoring would ever get that high.

Southcentral Idaho
In its second year of existence, the SCI has come of age. Its all-star team could give any a real hustle. The first unit boasts two from the championship Gooding squad in Adamson and Silva. Jerome contributes Millard. The league's second leading scorer, Ron Semmens, Mountain Home, was responsible for the Tigers bombing back into contention after blowing its first three games.

The fifth man indicates there's some talent coming back next year. The nod goes to Filer's Steve Sharp, a junior, in a tight race with three others. Sharp started hitting well late in the year and he rebounded classically, hand on top the ball and tip. In addition, he reduced the senseless fouls that plagued him as a sophomore starter.

Little Six Conference
Here again are many familiar names. McGhee and Sims come off the championship Glenns Perry club while Huettig represents Valley. Wendell contributes Greg Taylor and Larry Haddock. Shoshone got the other nod although the last two places were closely contested.

Northside Conference
The Northside conference, in the opinion of many fans and

After trailing for 12 minutes in the last half, Pocatello pulled into a 41-41 tie, with three minutes to go. Twin Falls then inched back on top by three but in the closing minute Steve Miher hit a 15-foot jump shot to tie it at 45-all.

Holmes then missed a crumpled with seven seconds to go and after the game ended Twin Falls' Paul Stover blew a free throw that could have won it.

Williams opened the overtime with three straight points and then sandwiched a goal between a pair by Holmes. With 36 seconds left Williams hit his final bucket and 15 seconds later John Astorquia iced the cake with a free throw.

The Bruins had it very easy Friday night in waxing Highland 61-42. Coach Paul Ostyn turned to his bench early in the fray and the starters saw only two quarters of action.

Twin Falls built up a five-point lead in the second quarter and then John Astorquia came off the bench to pump through three straight field goals and point the Bruins toward a rout.

Hitting 25 of 56 shots from the field, the game was Twin Falls' best from a shooting standpoint. Highland, never a contender to begin with, was further crippled during the week when two of his leading players were suspended for disciplinary reasons.

McKinley Upset In Tennis Meet

SALISBURY, Md., Feb. 19 (AP)—Sweden's Jan-Erik Lundquist upset defending champion Chuck McKinley 4-6, 1-6, 6-3 Friday night in a match marked by controversy and bitterness and qualified to meet schoolboy giant-killer Cliff Richey in the semifinals of the National Indoor Tennis Championships.

Richey, 18-year-old son of a Dallas professional, scored his second straight victory over a favorite by ousting fourth-seeded Frank Froehling III, Coral Gables, Fla., 6-4, 6-4.

coaches, was at its strongest in many years this season. But if our guesses are correct, it will be stronger because there isn't a senior on our starting club.

Sophomores Ron Knowles and Byron Wells, who give Dietrich a lot to be thankful for, are the youngest on the club. At the center spot we've placed Gooding's Lance Arave, a junior who may not be great but has carried the state school all year.

Steve Glauner, a consistent scorer or snorer, becoming a freshman starter for Hagerman, comes back again this year as a junior. The fifth place, finally, went to Carey's Lee Cook, a junior. That left us no room for Clint Ballard, Camas County; Jan Jansen, Richfield, or Olan Boyer, Hagerman.

Southside Conference
Nothing succeeds like success. For that reason the Southside league is dominated by Declo and Murtaugh, but we fudged here for the first time and named six men.

On the first unit are Mike Matthews, a junior, and Larry Darrington, Declo, whose scoring at times bordered on the miraculous. Declo didn't have the height to really stop opponents so it just outscored them.

Ironically, second place Murtaugh got three all-stars—which is quite a paradox. From the Okeberry and Del Rose, the fudge comes in when we found it impossible to pass up those five and leave Castleford ball-handling ace Gary West off the first unit. So we didn't.

A LONG RIGHT to the midsection is thrown by Del Rogers, Gooding, on his way to a unanimous three-round decision over Shelby Whitaker, Brigham City, Utah, Friday night in a 12-round boxing card at the Filer high school. Boxers Perform to Near Capacity Crowd FILER, Feb. 20 — Members of the Magic Valley Boxing club put on a fine show last night for a near capacity crowd at the Filer high school gym as they won seven of the twelve matches, in the 11th and 12th bouts. Terry Groves, Twin Falls, won the 11th over Gene Dobbs, Brigham City, and Jack Garner, Burley, knocked down B. Hart, Brigham City.

The technical knockouts came in the first round to gain his victory. Dennis Rogers, Gooding, gained a split decision over Kenny Adams, Twin Falls, on the weight of his aggressive first round of the three round match.

The first three matches ended in draws due to the age of the contender. In the 50-pound first bout, Johnny Cox, Twin Falls, drew with Rodney Sharp, also Twin Falls.

In the second bout Rodney Kenny and Randy Cox battled to a draw before the cheering crowd. Both weighed 55 pounds.

In the first match pitting club against club, Bill Huntsacker, Brigham City, drew with Billy Patterson, Twin Falls, in the 80-pound class.

Del Rogers, Gooding, gained a split decision in the fifth bout over Shelby Whitaker, Brigham City, using his longer reach to keep Whitaker on the defensive. The two weighed in at 105 pounds.

J. Cox, Twin Falls, gained a victory in the sixth bout when Jim Garrett, Brigham City, dislocated his shoulder in the first round. Cox had Garrett on the ropes with his aggressive punching when the 140-pounder asked for the fight to be stopped.

Earl Shields, Filer, outboxed Gerald House, Brigham City, in the first and third rounds in gaining a split decision. The second round ended in a draw as the 160-pound House found his left jab and put Shields on the defensive.

In the eighth match Jim Pratt, Twin Falls, gained a draw with Steve Jansen, Boise, while Gordon Pedrow, Filer, added another victory for the Magic Valley club in the ninth. Pedrow gained a split decision over Brett Whitaker, Brigham City.

Jim Barrow, Boise, took a unanimous decision over Harold Howard, Brigham City, in the 10th bout and Groves and Garner finished off the card with their wins.

Late Buckets by Thackeray Net 50-48 Decision

JEROME, Feb. 20—Bob Thackeray hit two baskets in the final minute tonight, one with one second left in the game, to give the Jerome Tigers a 50-48 upset victory over the Gooding Senators. The first of Thackeray's two baskets came with 46 seconds left to tie the game 48-48. It followed a short hook shot by Pat Williams at 1:01 that closed the gap to 46-48 after the Senators had led the entire game, except for the 1-0 lead the Tigers held for a few seconds on a free throw by Williams.

The Senators quickly set the Tigers back 6-1 on a goal by Ron Silva and two by Don Adamson and ended leading 12-7 at the end of the first quarter.

The Senators widened the lead in the second as Silva led off with a quick basket followed by one from David Hocklander. Thackeray cut it down to six points with a basket and charity shot but Silva came back with two long jump shots to make it 10-6.

Tam Gano ended the half for Jerome making the score 28-23. Stan Millard cut the Senator lead to two early in the third but Adamson scored five quick points to put the Senators out of danger. Two baskets by Williams and a free throw and basket by Gano cut the Senator lead down again leaving it 41-38 at the end of the third.

Stan Millard put the Tigers within one point early in the fourth but Leonard Bay was fouled while widening the Senators lead, missed his foul shot, rebounded and made it 45-40. Silva made three charity shots to end the Senator scoring, the last coming with about two minutes left.

The Tigers had a chance to tie the game twice in the fourth, once at 3:42 when Gano had two foul shots and missed them both and again when Gano stole the ball, fed it to Stan Millard who took it down court to Williams under the basket. Williams shot went off the rim and back to the Senators just before Silva ended the Senator scoring.

The Jerome junior varsity won the preliminary game 43-35.

Colorado State Runs Away From Utah State 89-74
FORT COLLINS, Colo., Feb. 20 (AP)—Colorado State University broke away from a 41-41 halftime deadlock tonight to pin an 89-74 basketball defeat on Utah State.

The loss gives Utah State a 1-1 record since the death of All America Wayne Estes in an electrocution accident ten days ago.

The Utes, led by Leroy Walker, had CSU playing catch-up through most of the first 20 minutes but could not cope with the scoring of Sonny Bustin and Lonnie Wright once the Rams got moving after the intermission.

A jump shot by Wright with 13.49 remaining put the winners in front to stay.

Wright and Bustin talked 23 each to give CSU its 13th victory in 19 games.

Walker's 25 points topped Utah State for the second straight contest. The Utes now stand 10-11.

Business Tax Break of 700 Million Will Spur Economy

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (AP)—Business got a 700-million dollar windfall during the week. It will spur the economy.

President Johnson announced an easing of the impact of certain "reserve ratio" tests set forth by the treasury department in 1962, when it revised depreciation rules to permit fast-track writeoffs.

As a result, the amount of depreciation deductions many businesses are allowed to claim in calculating deductible income in their tax returns will be affected.

These deductions are designed to permit them to set aside money for replacing equipment as it wears out.

The "reserve ratio" tests, intended to make certain that businesses don't write off their equipment more quickly than they replace it, originally were to be enforced this year.

Now businesses have another year of grace.

The President made his announcement in an address to 1,100 business leaders attending a meeting of the national industrial conference board in Washington.

"The new rules will further encourage business to scrap old equipment and bring in new — and they will further help business to cut costs but to raise efficiency, to hold the line on prices but to keep our expansion going," he said.

The new rules were welcomed by spokesmen for steel producers, railroads, airlines and other companies.

Robert C. Tyson, chairman of the finance committee of U.S. Steel, commented: "If this had not happened, we'd have had to do some cutting somewhere."

He estimated that otherwise U.S. Steel might have lost 20 per cent of its depreciation write-offs, which totaled $336 million last year.

Johnson also called for "a partnership for prosperity" among business, labor and government.

"The old rhythm of recessions cannot be easily exorcised as either inevitable or unavoidable," he said. "The self-interest of any segment cannot again be justly raised above the self-restraint of all segments."

An estimate of the amount of business expansion in the final three months of 1964 was revised upward by the commerce department.

The gross national product — total of all goods and services — reached an annual rate of $34.5 billion in the fourth quarter. This was an increase of about 6.3 billion dollars over the third quarter. The gain earlier had been calculated at 6.1 billion.

For all of 1964 the GNP totaled $132.6 billion dollars, a gain of 38.7 billion dollars or 6.5 per cent over 1963.

The commerce department also reported that new factory orders for durable goods in January rose one per cent from December.

Factory shipments of durable goods edged to a record 20.7 billion from 20.6 billion dollars in December.

Another favorable development was the report that publicly held corporations paid cash dividends of $1,385,200,000 in January, a gain of 17 per cent from the $1,187,500,000 a year earlier.

The Morgan Guaranty Trust company of New York said that deepening U.S. involvement in Viet Nam and the aggravation of the balance-of-payments pressures have occasioned uneasiness in business and financial circles in recent weeks. It added, however, that there has been no discernible effect on actual business operations.

The automobile industry turned out its four-millionth car of the 1965 model year during the week. Output for the week was estimated at 202,000 passenger cars, compared with 202,336 the previous week and 169,000 a year ago.

New car sales continued to run at a record pace in the first 10 days of February, when 234,869 U.S.-built cars were delivered.

The steel industry poured 2,676,000 tons of steel during the week, a gain of 0.1 per cent over the previous week, as the mills continued to operate at near capacity. Users were striving to build stockpiles as a hedge against a possible strike May 1.

However, there was talk that the May 1 deadline for agreement on a new labor contract may be extended because of the deadlock in the United Steelworkers union election.

The price of aluminum sheet products went up. The move was initiated by Consolidated Aluminum corporation and was followed by Aluminum company of America and Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical corporation.

In one of the biggest merger agreements in recent years, Pure Oil company approved the offer of Union Oil company of California. The transaction was estimated at 660 million dollars.

Blue Chip Stocks Drop, Others Rally

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (AP)—Blue chip stocks drifted slightly lower this week but the rest of the list staged a fairly good rally. Trading fell below last week's active pace.

Losses in the blue chip shares were largely responsible for declines in some stock market indicators. Traders noted that although the group already has retreated substantially from its highs of last month, there was little buying interest.

Buyers, instead, focused their attention on the so-called secondary industrial shares which, analysts point out, have failed to participate in the market's long upswing. In addition to their comparatively low prices, the secondary shares also have been on a number of institutional shopping lists recently.

The week began with a continuation of the Viet Nam jitters which cost the Dow-Jones industrial average a little over 7 points in the first two sessions. However, by Wednesday calmness again prevailed and the indicator fell only 1.58. Some upward progress was made on Thursday and Friday.

Some companies got a good lift Thursday from President Johnson's plans to put 700 million dollars back into corporate pockets through revision of the depreciation guidelines. The experts recall the upswing in corporate profits which followed the last revision of the guidelines a few years ago.

However, administration proposals for plugging the gold drain by restraining corporate investments overseas cut a number of internationally based companies back.

Dow-Jones Industrials slipped 2.88 to 885.61 but rail advanced 2.24 to 210.42. Standard and Poor's 500 stock index tacked on 0.16 to 86.21. Volume slowed to 27,889,821 shares from 29,674,210 shares a week before and compared with 18,411,260 shares in the same week last year.

Gainers outnumbered losers by nearly 2-to-1 as 853 issues moved higher while 489 declined. Of the 1,522 issues traded, 213 rose to new 1964-65 highs while 19 touched new lows.

Former Competitors Join Forces To Establish New Business Here

Twin Falls' newest industry is unique in an unusual way. The two men who own the place were competing for business in separate establishments when they were back in Kansas. Now they are partners here.

The two are Joseph P. Corrigan and John J. Gillespie. They now are co-owners and operators of the newly established Corrigan Aluminum Products company which occupies a large building on Main avenue south. The structure formerly was occupied by the Parisian laundry.

Establishment of the new business in Twin Falls came about because of a set of circumstances which should be of benefit to both the community and the new residents.

First, although the two men were competitors in the midwest, they both shared a love of hunting and, weekends and hunting seasons, were companions. This led to an ultimate agreement that they would come west—because of better hunting setups—and thus become partners.

How come they agreed on a decision to start their combined venture in Twin Falls? That was largely credited to the efforts of Harold Hove, chairman of the industrial development commission of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and also business development officer of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company.

Mr. Hove told us a good story about this city and this section of Idaho and we believed him. Whenever we wanted to know anything about the area, he supplied it. He is a walking Chamber of Commerce with a desire (Continued on Page 36)

"South Pacific" Star Finds Road Between Dilettante Productions Is Tough Going

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Feature Editor

When the curtain parts and Mary Walker stands in the spotlight for the initial presentation of "South Pacific" by the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley, she probably will be the most surprised person in the auditorium. The road has been long—and rough—between the time she took the lead three years ago in the production "Annie Get Your Gun" and the present, as she once more appears in the leading role, this time as the navy nurse Nellie Forbush.

Mrs. Walker, wife of Lloyd Walker, Twin Falls, is the only member of the cast who has starred on Broadway and her appearance in the six-night stand, set for two week-ends in March, carries out the true tradition that the show must go on. In between her role in "Annie Get Your Gun" and the present "South Pacific" she also had been selected for the lead in "Kiss Me Kate," but then her luck started to turn.

She had to give up that role because she became ill with hepatitis and was bedfast for weeks. After recovery from that dangerously infectious disease she was forced to take things easy and her doctor drew up a rigid schedule of rest she was to follow. Then, about three months ago, she prepared for the birth of her third child, but disaster struck again. She came down with the mumps and was immediately placed on bedrest orders. Despite the mumps, the baby was born without further incident and a girl was added to the two boys she had already mothered.

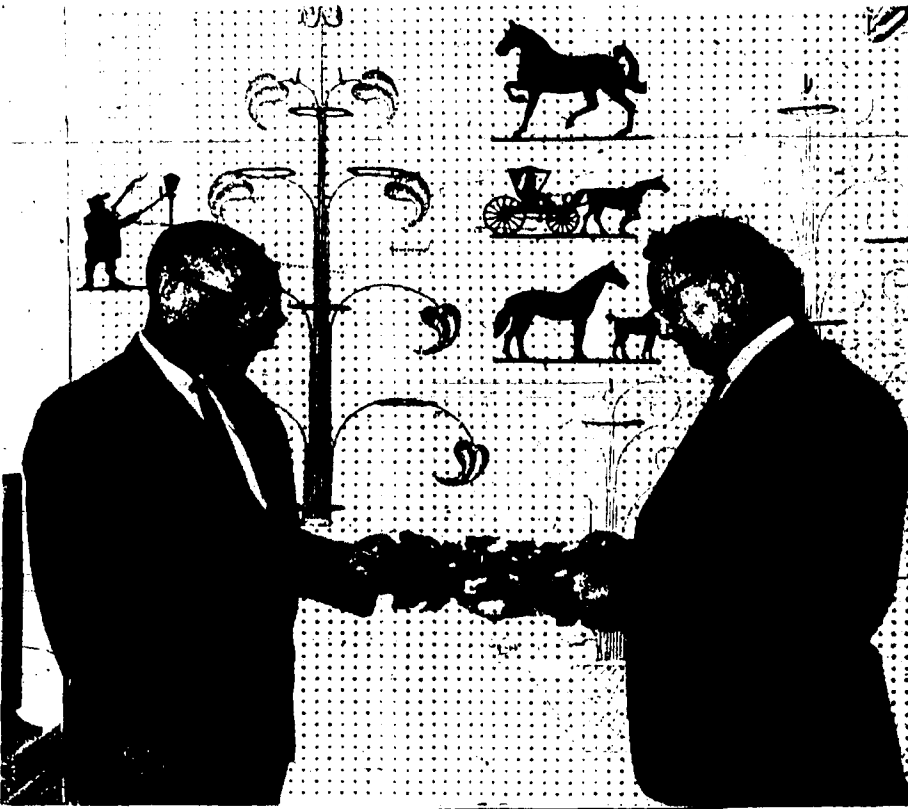

Her next concern was as to whether all the illness she had undergone had affected her voice. Long hours of practice and work proved there had been no damage. "There is only one thing I notice," Mrs. Walker laughs. "Now when I sing I have the feeling that I can hear myself more than I used to. Perhaps I just think I do because, really, I've got to the point where I could be a little lumpy."

Now that the "South Pacific" (Continued on Page 26)

LEADING ACTRESS in "South Pacific," Mary Walker, Twin Falls, poses in one of 10 dresses which were made from the pattern of the original worn by Mary Martin in the first Broadway production. The dress, of organdy, is worn in the party scene during the production which is scheduled by the Dilettante

Group of Magic Valley for six performances in March. Mrs. Walker, wife of Lloyd Walker, plays Nellie Forbush in the lively musical while Roger Vincent, Filler, has the male lead as Emil deBeque. H. Paul Kille is director. Reserved seats will go on sale March 1. (Times-News photo)

Fishing Not Paramount as Head Of Local Woolworth Store Retires

J. M. (Jim) Norfleet has just completed 45 years and seven months with the F. W. Woolworth company and, in retirement, he is planning a lot of fishing. Norfleet laughed when he told this to a Times-News reporter during an interview at his home in Twin Falls.

"Practically every fellow who retires announces that he is going to catch up on his fishing. This is not the case with me. I have nothing against fishing. It is just that I have other things in mind," he said.

He has served as manager of the Woolworth store in Twin Falls for the past 17 years, but his service with the nationwide concern started long ago when he became a stock boy in the Salt Lake City store.

At the recent retirement party, which was staged for him and his wife at the Denver headquarters, two of his former employees—in fact, he had hired them both as stockboys when he was manager of the Provo store—were there to honor him.

IT WAS A BIG DAY for J. M. (Jim) Norfleet, Twin Falls businessman and former city official, when this picture was taken recently in Denver. It marked his retirement from F. W. Woolworth and company after nearly 46 years with the firm, and two of the company's highest officials were on hand for

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Salt and pepper shakers to captivate the fancy of both old and young can be viewed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Witt, 801 Alken avenue, BUHL. The prize collection of some 300 pairs of shakers of every size, color and description are fascinating to behold and many enjoyable hours can be spent in examining these unique holders. Although the collection belongs to Mrs. Witt, she started this as a hobby as a young girl but earnestly began collecting 15 years ago, her husband also takes special interest and has purchased many pairs for her.

Most of the shakers, however, were acquired as gifts from friends and relatives. Each pair has a special significance to Mrs. Witt and she can readily tell when and from whom she received it.

An antique desk and glassed bookcase cabinet hold a majority of the salt and pepper shakers. They also can be found displayed on knick-knack shelves and other furnishings in the home.

A good representation of states and countries are found in the collection. They include Washington, Oregon, Colorado, Utah, Arizona, Wyoming, California, Kansas, Oklahoma, Nevada, Mississippi, Missouri, Texas, New York, Tennessee, Idaho, Alaska, Canada, England, Scotland, China, Japan, Korea, New Zealand, and Mexico.

The smallest pair in the collection are minute red binoculars approximately one inch high, and the largest, a pair of gun shells, five and one-half inches tall. Of special sentimental value and the oldest pair in the assemblage is a 1908 Year old pair of crystal shakers acquired by Mrs. Witt as a child, a gift from her mother.

The varied assortment of charming shakers ranges from fruits, vegetables, flowers, animals, luggage, dice, Western gear, covered wagons, steam engines, whiskey barrels, and tombstones. In addition there are old fashioned pocket watches, musical instruments, sea animals, figurines, and those depicting holiday seasons. Unique household items such as the old pot-bellied stove and rocker, twin beds, tea and coffee pots, rolling pins, telephone and directory, automatic washer and dryer, old fashioned lamps, and many more too numerous to mention. To view this delightful and colorful collection is to appreciate it.

Mr. and Mrs. Witt are originally from Kansas. They have made their home in Idaho since 1937 with Witt engaged in farming and trucking. The couple has made their home in Buhl for the past 11 years.

Witt was employed with the Twin Falls Canal company. He is now retired. They have two children, Mrs. Gene McBar, Buhl, and Mrs. Clarence Boatman, Bonners Ferry, five grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

Work Party Held At Castleford

CASTLEFORD, Feb. 20 — The work committee of the Men's club held a work party Friday to construct concrete fireplaces and erect tables at the Castleford park.

The sign committee reported at a meeting this week the signs directing traffic to Castleford, Balanced rock and Castleford park are ready to be erected.

William Kinyon reported on the proposed construction of the Buhl highway district. Katherine Ruffing, Linda Wright, Arlene Walker, Cheryl Puschel, and Carolyn Wheeler, from the Castleford speech class, presented the program.

VIEWING SOME OF the many salt and pepper shakers at their home in Buhl are Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Witt. Mrs. Witt has some 300 pairs of shakers of every size and description. Many of them were received as gifts from friends and relatives. The Witts are originally from Kansas but have made their home in Idaho since 1937. Witt is engaged in farming and trucking. The smallest in the collection are minute red binoculars about one inch high, while the largest, a pair of gun shells, Witt is holding, measure five and one-half inches tall. (Times-News photo) on the board of trustees. He has had continuous membership in the Rotary club for 36 years and belongs to all Masonic orders as well as the Elks lodge.

He and Mrs. Norfleet, the former Gladys Winchester, were married in Los Angeles in 1921. They met when both were attending Southern Illinois university.

Employees of the local store honored him at a farewell party Jan. 5.

The Norfleets intend to continue making their home in Twin Falls.

During his career with Woolworth, Norfleet had several opportunities to go into the executive branch instead of the managerial, but chose to remain where he was.

"I had more fun, and not so much pressure, right where I was," he laughed. "It was a good situation and I have enjoyed every minute of it."

production nears, she is more carefully than ever.

One of the costumes she will wear, a beautiful, full organdy dress, has been secured from the New York City costume house of Cell Chapman, nationally known designer.

It is one of only 10 dresses which have been made from the original design worn by Mary Martin. Officials of the local production say Mrs. Walker was able to slip into the dress "without alteration of any kind."

While on Broadway, Mrs. Walker was able to see Mary Martin in the original production.

Male lead in the local production will be taken by Roger Vincent, Filer, while director is H. Paul Kliss. Choreographer will be Philip Kepler, a professor in the ballet department at the University of Utah, and the work of costuming will be shared by Mrs. Wilma Miller and Mrs. Gerner Lowe.

Mrs. Thomas W. Driscoll is handling publicity, with Mrs. Larry Hovey in charge of properties, Judy Bracken in charge of makeup and Seneth Ward, ing pace permits Mrs. Walker to show off her voice and acting ability to advantage.

Because of the popularity of "South Pacific" and the fact that everyone has heard the catchy music, Mrs. Driscoll said, sellouts are expected at all performances.

Among other things, money left over after expenses of the Dilettante productions are paid goes to dramatic and dance scholarships to deserving and talented young people in Magic Valley. All work by individuals in connection with any production is donated, Mrs. Driscoll points out.

Film Shown At Hansen's PTA Session

HANSEN, Feb. 20 — A colored film, "Idaho School Dilemma," was shown at the PTA meeting held Thursday night in the small gymnasium.

It depicted the over-crowded conditions, stating that many of the best teachers are being drawn to surrounding states because of the higher salaries. It was shown by Marvin Rose and Edwin Crockett, teachers in the Hansen schools.

Mrs. Edwin Crockett spoke on Founder's day, noting that PTA members must strive for an "A" in accomplishment rather than getting "E" for effort. She displayed the PTA objectives on a large sheet of paper and asked the members present to grade themselves on what the PTA has accomplished. A contribution was made for Founder's day.

Mr. Carlos Borah gave the invocation.

Kenneth Daw, acting president, announced a public meeting will be held at the schoolhouse at 8 p.m. Monday. School board members and teachers will express their opinions and answer questions on the proposed consolidation of Kimberly, Hansen and Murtaugh schools.

The second grade were the winners of the parent attendance contest and will have the cuckoo clock for the coming month in their room.

IDAHO TROPHIES taken from big game animals recently bagged by hunters are being measured for the Boone and Crockett club record book by E. Killis Brown, one of the state's official scorers and information and education division chief of the fish and game department. The moose antlers, taken in Fremont county east of Spencer by Harvey Lewis, Jerome, last fall will tie for 31st place in the next edition of "Records of North American Big Game" unless moose antlers having a higher total score are entered in the meantime. This trophy has a total score of 165 2/8 points. The widest spread is 47 6/8 inches, with 10 normal points on the left antler and eight on the right. The bighorn sheep trophy on the left is the biggest ever recorded in Idaho but it was taken out of season by a poacher and cannot qualify for Boone and Crockett club competition. Otherwise it would rank 26th among the all-time greats for bighorn sheep. (Fish-Game photo)

Trophies Bagged in Idaho Rate High In Records Kept by Boone, Crockett

BOISE, Feb. 20—Trophies bagged in Idaho by big game hunters from many parts of the world are competing successfully with the all-time greats of this continent.

Many occupy coveted places in the record books of the Boone and Crockett club, official arbiter of North American big game trophies, and others are added with the passing of every year or two.

For example, the 1964 edition of "Records of North American Big Game," the fifth in the club's series of listings in book form, ranks an Idaho mule deer as tied for second place for typical antlers; a Shiras moose, third; three cougars, third; an elk, fourth; a mountain goat, ninth; and a pronghorn antelope, 12th in the proper classifications.

Last November, Sgt. 1/ci. Fred Thompson, Idaho Falls, shot an elk near Myers cove in the Salmon region. The royal antlers, as measured by Errol Nielson, Pocatello area game biologist for the fish and game department, have a total score of 395 points.

This gives the rack an unofficial Boone and Crockett rating of 12th place among the best ever recorded.

Unless a bigger, more symmetrical set is entered within the next year, it will displace the antlers which have held that position since 1963. Nielson is an official scorer for the Boone and Crockett club.

Numerous other trophies from the Gem state share honors with the international greats, and some of these in the various classifications are listed below.

Theodore Roosevelt, 26th president of the United States and founder of the Boone and Crockett club when he was just eight years out of college, established standards that deny official recognition to the largest bighorn sheep trophy ever reported in Idaho.

The ram was shot out of season late in 1961 on Panther creek in Lemhi county by a poacher, hence does not meet Roosevelt's standards set forth in the "Credo of Fair Chase."

Otherwise, these horns could be entered and otherwise officially ranked as the 26th largest set ever recorded.

Measured by Ralph V. Pehrson, Salmon area game biologist and official scorer for Boone and Crockett club, these horns scored a total of 193 1/2 points, compared with 207 2/8 points for the bighorn trophy that has held the top spot since 1924.

They are massive, tightly curled, badly broomed or blunted "stove pipe" horns that still measure 40 1/2 inches on the right and 38 3/8 on the left. The basal circumference of each is 16 1/2 inches. The left horn is broomed off more than the right, but only what is left counts.

This makes a handsome mount, not only because of the massiveness and badly broomed appearance of the horns, but also because the hair is thick, long and in the dark gray-brown color phase of winter.

The summer coat normally is somewhat lighter in color, and certainly in the texture of the hair. This was one of the biological arguments used in breaking down the poacher's story.

But big Idaho horns, antlers, tusks and skulls are growing even bigger all the time and someday a trophy hunter will be at the right place at the right time—during the hunting season.

In each of the Boone and Crockett club's big game trophy contests of the past 10 years or so, new all-time records have been set for various species.

Magnificent specimens are being taken every year even though minimum scores for trophy recording also are being revised steadily upward for most species. These minimum scores are being raised because of the tremendous upsurge in the number of trophies now exceeding the lowest entry measurements.

Now and then, a new world's record trophy is entered. For example, the Idaho mule deer bagged by Ray Talbott in Franklin county in the fall of 1961 tied for second place in the all-time international records and was less than three points away from the greatest of them all for typical antlers.

But another mule deer with identically the same measurements was bagged the previous year in Wyoming and the two of them tied, pushing the previous record in that position into third place and starting a game of musical chairs from the second rung downward.

Trophies of equal value under the steel measuring tape are common. There are four skulls tied for third place in the all-time bests for cougar or mountain lion. Three of these were bagged in Idaho—and two of them by the same hunter, Gene Alfond, on the Selway river.

One weak spot in Idaho's big game trophy competition is in the whitetail deer class. While only a fraction of the total national harvest, comes from this

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT . . .

Flat Tire Caused Rupert to Gain Valuable Teacher in Willard Hayward

RUPERT, Feb. 20—Because of a flat tire back in 1921, Rupert gained a valuable citizen and dedicated teacher.

Willard Hayward, who will be 80 years old June 7, recalls he and his wife were traveling to the Twin Falls project to locate and had stopped in Rupert to eat dinner.

WILLARD HAYWARD

When they came out of the restaurant they discovered the Ford car they were driving had a flat tire. Hayward said while he was fixing the tire with patching and hand pump, an old friend of his father's recognized him. In the short conversation that followed he learned the Haywards were planning to go to Twin Falls, and urged them to consider the Rupert project.

He also learned that several people from Sanpete county, where Hayward was born, had located on the project and among them was Parley Kump, an old friend.

Haywards decided to find the Kumps and say hello. They located the Kump farm and were urged to stay and rest over night. According to Hayward that night they were convinced that Rupert was a good place to live. In a short time they had purchased a farm and have resided in Rupert ever since.

Hayward was born in Chester, Sanpete county, Utah, on June 7, 1885, and at the age of 5 moved to Circleville, Platte county, Utah, where his father was engaged in the sheep business and ranching. He attended school there.

He recalled his mother and father insisted he get a good education and in the fall of 1904 he registered in the branch normal school at Cedar City, Utah. After being graduated from the branch normal, which was then a branch of the University of Utah, he attended the University of Utah.

In 1907 he started his teaching career. He was principal at Chester, Utah, for three years and there he met and married Bertha Beck in June, 1909. He also was engaged in ranching and dairymaking.

In the spring of 1911 they moved to Salt Lake City and Hayward worked in the postoffice there until the spring of 1919. During this time he continued his education with five summers and three winters extra work at the University.

He recalls his brother-in-law persuaded him of the opportunities in Idaho and that farmers were getting rich so he resigned from the postoffice and they moved to Aberdeen. The one year spent farming there proved to be the driest year in the history of Aberdeen. The water was gone by the middle of the summer and crops were very poor.

Hayward related he had all he wanted of Aberdeen and they sold their farm and "moved down the river," looking for a new place to settle.

Mrs. Hayward recalls that Rupert was the cleanest, prettiest little town she had ever seen when they arrived here in 1921 with their household goods. The houses were new and all the residents were young people and all enthusiastic about the area.

"Everyone was from somewhere else, and it wasn't unusual to locate residents from home counties," she said.

"Believe me, those were hard times," Hayward said, recalling the first years in Rupert. Hay was sold for $4.50 per ton and potatoes sold for 25 cents per hundredweight. After the potatoes had been shipped the dealers tried to get the farmers to pay or make up the loss incurred by them in freight.

After the "big bust," as Hayward recalls those first two years, Mrs. Hayward drove a school wagon pulled by a team of horses the first winter after they arrived on the project. This provided them with a few dollars for living expenses.

In the fall of 1931 Hayward was given the principalship of the Pioneer school, located northwest of Rupert, and served there for eight years. In 1929 he managed the O.P. Skaggs store until it was sold to Herman Johnson.

Again in the fall of 1931 he returned to his work as principal at the Pioneer school where he remained until 1951.

"It was my earnest desire to make good impressions and create a desire in children to become good, desirable citizens," Hayward said. The early age of children is the formative period and lasting impressions are made.

Characteristics which were especially emphasized by Hayward included morality, honesty, courtesy, truthfulness and a respect for others' rights and property.

He was continually interested and active in all sports and encouraged this at school. He recalled that for many years none of his students were able to outrun him, but one day during a track training exercise he was outdistanced by a girl.

A safety patrol was maintained at the school and in 1940 77 students of the 130 enrolled at Pioneer participated in a state meet in Boise. Music was provided by four schools in the state, one being Pioneer.

Hayward recalled that S. P. (Safety) Davis was state safety chairman and Pioneer school was recognized as the best organized school in the state with student body, parents and teachers all enthusiastic about the work.

Hayward has been active in church and civic activities all his life. He served as superintendent of the Rupert second ward LDS Sunday school for 10 years and served many years on the stake Sunday school board.

The Haywards are recognized as the oldest active members of the Pioneer Grange, having become members in 1923. He has served as master for the Pioneer Grange and also the Pocatello Grange.

He served as president and has been a member of the Rupert-Burley Knif and Fork club since 1948 and a member of the Rupert Lions club for many years.

Hayward has a vivid memory for names and faces, being able to recall names of students who visit with him occasionally although he has not seen them for many years.

In January, 1951, Hayward took over the position of clerk, auditor and recorder in Minidoka county, serving in this capacity for 12 years.

The Haywards reared five children, four of whom still are living. Mrs. Hayward (Rita) Stone (nee Hawaii), Mrs. Earl (Ruth) Larson, Salmon; Clifford Hayward, Rupert, and Ted Hayward, Salt Lake City.

A son, William Hayward, was shot in Vallejo, Calif., by a robber entering his store May 17, 1946. They have 15 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Hayward celebrated their golden wedding anniversary several years ago.

In 1952 Hayward retired and spends summers in Ketchum on Warm Springs creek. He added he has learned to fish, not having the time when he was younger as his time was taken up rearing and providing for his family. Many hours of the winter months find him at home in a Preston-made rocking chair in which was brought across the plains in 1880 by Mrs. Hayward's great grandfather, Hans Beck.

Hayward attributes his good health and activity to his lifetime love of sports and enthusiasm for life. During his years of public service he noted the pleasant and unpleasant events and rejoices that only the pleasant things remain uppermost in his recollections.

STILL IN USE is the original boiler—or at least part of it—which served the Board sawmill, established in the Wood river area just after 1880. Hedley Board, a son of the mill founder, is shown inspecting the boiler, now a stove located in one of the barns on his place at Hailey. The original Board mill was first located on Greenhorn gulch, between Ketchum and Hailey. (Times-News photo)

Native of Hailey Eyes Retired Life Following Sale of Pioneer Sawmill

HAILEY, Feb. 20 — Hedley Board, one of the oldest persons living in the Wood river valley who was born there, has settled down to a more or less retired life following a stint of 43 years operating the Board sawmill, itself being one of the oldest, if not the oldest, sawmill in the area.

The old sawmill was first established by Board's father, who moved into the area at the start of the 1880's and brought in the steam sawmill on wagons pulled by oxen.

The trip to the Wood river valley was made from Kelson, Utah, where the elder Board had been a railroad telegraph operator and had been present when the golden spike joined the Union Pacific and Central Pacific railroads.

Board was born at Hailey on April 3, 1884, and has resided there since. He was associated in the operation of the mill with his father prior to the time the elder Board died (1921) and Hedley took over. A younger brother, Fred, aided in the operation down through the years.

Hedley Board admits his association in the lumber industry "since I was able to walk."

"With the name of Board, what else could I have done," he laughed.

He still recalls the time that the famed "Believe It or Not" series featured him by pointing out that it was a Board who operated a sawmill, sawing boards in the Sawtooth area of Idaho.

The mill first was established on Greenhorn gulch between Ketchum and Hailey and later was moved down on the Wood river on what is now the Perdam ranch, then into Hailey.

At one time it was operated up Warm Springs out of Ketchum, but since 1935 has been permanently set up at Hailey.

The mill was sold to Harold Ivie and his two sons last year.

Board admits to being a "homebody" and adds that he was even born at home. He was the fifth of nine children born to his parents and the second

OLD BOILER, practically covered with snow, is inspected by Hedley Board and Fred Board, pioneers of the Hailey section. The Board sawmill was established early in the 1880's and has been operated by the family continuously until last year, when ber when Sun Valley was under construction hit a new high.

In fact, practically all the lumber used in construction of the resort went through the Board mill planer.

Originally the mill was steam operated and featured large boilers. One of the original boilers was sold only recently by Board to Sun Valley's new owners and it has been installed as a glorified bar in the already famous Boiler room, in the Sun Valley lodge.

Meanwhile, Board continues to dabble in farming and, although he gets up early every morning, "I just take it a little easier than I used to."

Along this line of "taking it easy," Board and his wife will be two of the participants on the Times-News air tour of the Hawaiian Islands which leaves Twin Falls the morning of Feb. 24.

It was sold to Harold Ivie and his two sons. A "sister" boiler of the one shown here was sold to Sun Valley officials and now serves as a glorified bar in the already famed Boiler room at the Sun Valley lodge. (Times-News photo)

"We went to Mexico on the Times-News tour last year and liked it so much that we decided to take the island trip this year," Board said.

Meet Honors Spud Grower Processors

RUPERT, Feb. 20 — Potato growers and processors were honored Thursday noon during the regular meeting of the Rupert Chamber of Commerce, celebrating a week of recognition of the potato industry in Minidoka county.

Processors, packers, shippers and growers from the Mini-Casida area were guests of the Chamber of Commerce with Henry Dockter, chairman of the cultural committee, introducing guests.

Dockter pointed out potato week was in recognition of the potato industry and efforts to better the relationship between growers and processors.

Otis Williams, representing Ore-Ida, reported some 22,000 sacks of raw potatoes are processed daily into one million pounds of the finished product at the plant.

He noted the company was in corn business prior to going into potato processing and the plant in Burley was opened in 1960.

A good deal of expansion during the past year has resulted in increased cold storage area and warehouse room, Williams said. Last August IPPI was purchased by Ore-Ida which increased their operations and growth.

Williams reported some 14,018 persons are on the payroll at Ore-Ida with the plant continuing operation until April 15. They will shut down for a short period and resume operations until the middle of May with potatoes being shipped in from Ontario, Ore., for processing. The plant will open the fall operation in August.

Ted Raymaker, spokesman for Rocky Mountain Chemical plant in Rupert, reported on the present status of the company. He pointed out the difficulty in the initial operation of the plant but felt the company could come back and become a competitive industry.

Hugo Dalsoglio, reporting for the J. R. Simplot company, pointed out Idaho leads all other states in the processing of potatoes including potato starch, with over 50 per cent of the potato crop being processed.

He said the addition of the 700,000 acres of ground adjoining the Snake river greatly added to the production of Idaho potatoes, and noted a decrease in fresh pack each year.

Dalsoglio emphasized the 1950 payroll in 1950 was $2,188,000 to over 23 million dollars in 1964 in potato processing. He also pointed out some 1,120 persons were employed in 1950 and some 8,000 in 1964 in the state.

Max Herbold talked briefly on the potato business he had started in Rupert in 1945. He said some 500 cars of potatoes are shipped yearly from his sheds in Paul and Rupert.

Donald Rasmussen and Roger Jones represented Rolland Jones warehouse in Rupert. Rasmussen reported between 900 and 950 cars of potatoes will be shipped from their warehouse here this year.

He pointed out shipments were made mostly in 10-pound bags this year due to the increase in price. He emphasized the potato industry received its products from the local area, with a payroll also going to local people, and money from the products shipped from the area, comes into Rupert from many parts of the United States.

Speaking on behalf of the growers were Keith Thomas, local committee member of the Idaho Potato Processing and JOHN CONRAD MAYER, resident of Twin Falls, holds a unique place among the more than 20,000,000 people who have applied for social security benefits. Marketing association, and also Roger Dean. Thomas emphasized the contract negotiations and said farmers were only interested in contracting for cost plus a reasonable profit.

Local businesses with potato displays include M. H. King, Idaho First National bank, Frank's Home Furnishing, and Lloyds Floral.

After the chamber luncheon, members toured the Rolland Jones warehouse.

August Bethke, county auditor and recorder, talked briefly on present legislation which would affect Minidoka county.

He pointed out the bill to increase the tax levy by 15 mills would bring in some $22,000 in the county. The maximum levy at present is 75 mills.

The county clerk also reported the present bill to increase small claims from a maximum of $100 to $200 in justice court, and increase civil court damage cases from $300 to $600 and probate court up to $750. He noted the bill which would increase the levy for the indigent fund was opposed by the county commissioners.

Other guests of the club were Woody Barlow and Alvin Neal representing Lockwood Graders, Robert Carlson, former Twin Falls resident now new manager of Simplot Soilbuilders, and Mel Oppinger, KMYT.

Third Job Camp In Idaho Planned

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP) — The federal bureau of reclamation expects to have a 100-man job corps center at Marsing, Ida., in operation by July 1, Sen. Frank Church, D., Ida., has announced.

Employees will work on reclamation, recreation and fish and wildlife projects in parts of Canyon, Ada and Owyhee counties, the senator said.

Elderly Local Resident Among Select Citizens Receiving Social Security

John Conrad Mayer, 243 Tyler street, is one of the select citizens in the United States so far as the federal social security program is concerned.

In fact, there are only 1,961 people like him in the entire nation. Right now more than 20,000,000 people have filed for benefits under social security and Mayer, at 92 years of age, is one of only 1,961 people who have been receiving such benefits since benefits first were paid, in January, 1940.

Since that first month, Mayer has drawn a total of 301 benefit checks without interruption. He has drawn these benefits longer than anyone else in Magic Valley and there are 11,000 drawing in this area right now.

Mayer, who resides with his son Ralph Mayer, well known area musician, was born on Feb. 2, 1873. His wife, who died last year, was born Aug. 18, 1877 and at the time of her death also was drawing benefits.

Still alert and active, Mayer spends his summertime tending a garden and, although he says his hands are now a little stiff, he still plays his violin on occasion.

He says he "leans toward hoe-down music." He still reads easily and wears no glasses.

He came to Twin Falls in July, 1951 from Spokane where he was a carpenter.

"Right now I'm just waiting for summer," Mayer said. "That is the best time of the year and I enjoy it most because I can get outside more of the time."

Snow Outing Taken by Area Couples

SHOSHONE, Feb. 20 — A real winter outing was the way six, Lincoln county residents described their trip last week-end to Yellowstone park.

The three couples took a 30-mile snowmobile trip from West Yellowstone to Old Faithful and back Friday, and they came back awed with the beauty of the country and enticed by animals along the way. The weather was a low of seven below and a high of 10 above during their stay. They missed the 37 minutes of Thursday night by one day.

Taking the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kennison, Shoshone; Mr. and Mrs. Sid Edwards, Dietrich, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lemmon, Richfield.

Three snowmobiles with 10 passengers each made the trip and do so each day of the week, the tourists were told.

There are round portholes in the snowmobile through which passengers may look out and two doors open at the roof. This is where they took a good view of the valley as they traveled and even had opportunity to take some pictures of the scenery. The driver would stop the machine to accommodate detailed picture taking.

The snow was an estimated three feet under the pathway of the machine, while at West Yellowstone it was said to measure seven feet in most places.

A lunch was provided for mid-way on the trip. In fact they ate their sack lunches at Old Faithful.

One of the great sights was arriving at Old Faithful in the cold winter weather, clear sky overhead, in time to see the eruption.

"Cinderella." (Color Special, 6:30 p.m. CBS)—Once upon a time (back in 1957) Rodgers and Hammerstein wrote the only musical ever originated for television. It was based on the classic fairy tale involving a mistreated peasant girl, a prince and a fairy god-mother who has the magical powers to change pumpkins and mice into coaches and teams of horses. The earlier video version of the beloved children's tale went over rather big, so now it's being restaged with a new cast and one new song. The cast includes Ginger Rogers, Walter Pidgeon, Celeste Holm and Jo Van Fleet. Featured as Cinderella and the prince are Lesley Ann Warren and Stuart Damon.

"The Alfred Hitchcock Hour." (8:30 p.m. NBC)—Tonight's drama concerns "An Unlocked Window," with Dana Wynter portraying a nurse who spends a terrifying night in an old country house.

"The Bing Crosby Show." (8:30 p.m. ABC)—Frankie Avalon and Vikki Carr are co-starring tonight as a pair of teen-age newlyweds who move next door to Bing and his family.

"CBS Reports." (10:30 and 10:40 p.m. CBS)—Walter Lippman, famed author and political analyst, assesses the state of the na-tion and the world when he returns for his sixth annual appear-ance on this news-documentary series.

BEST MONDAY NIGHT MOVIES

"The River's Edge." (Color, 1956) Debra Paget, Anthony Quinn and Ray Milland (8 p.m. KSL)—Suspense-filled drama of a killer who seeks revenge on the Korean war veteran who married his girl friend.

"The Young Doctors." (1961) Fredric March, Ben Gazzara, Edward Andrews, Dick Clark, Eddie Albert and Tina Turner (8 p.m. KCPX, KTVB; 9:30 p.m. KMYT, KID)—Any similarity between this flicker and a few TV series is purely intentional. Still, the film is an interesting-enough study of loving and dying in a city hospital.

"Mardi Gras." (1958) Pat Boone and Tommy Sands (10:30 p.m. KTVB)—Entertaining musical-comedy about four military academy cadets on the town in New Orleans for the colorful Mardi Gras festivities.

"The High and the Mighty." (1945) John Wayne, Claire Trevor and Lorraine Day (10:35 p.m. KCPX)—Taut drama about re-action of 22 passengers on plane which develops engine trouble en route from Hawaii to San Francisco. Considering the number of passengers, the film manages to keep the amount of flashback sequences to a minimum and the movie succeeds in building up suspense.

July 1 Set For Finishing 2 Road Jobs

Idaho state highway department noted that construction on the South Park section and Blue Lake boulevard south should be completed by July 1. Both jobs entail complete reconstruction.

In the South park area where state-highway 74 is being widened and the curve minimized, it was reported that Intermountain Gas company has removed its line and Idaho Power company has begun taking his line out. Irrigation construction will commence Feb. 23, and the contractor is now crushing and stockpiling the gravel base south of Hansen. The project began in January, but had been anticipated for several years.

Work on the Blue Lakes boulevard south extension will resume when weather permits, according to an official from the highway department. This farm-to-market road begins 1,000 feet south of Highland avenue and stops at the south end of the Rock creek bridge. This road has yet to be paved.

Life sketch was given by Bishop Blauer. Speakers were Bishop Leland R. Woodbury and Bishop Milton C. Payne. Benediction was given by Elton Hatch.

Palbearers were Vern Jacobson, Lynn Jacobson, Donald Jacobson, Russell Silcock, Rodney Silcock and Dennis Hanks. Floral arrangements were under the direction of the View ward Relief society, assisted by granddaughters Marilee Silcock, Penny Silcock, Della Hanks, Mary Foster, Rose Foster and Carol Ramsey.

Final rites were held in the Pleasant View cemetery with dedicatory prayer by David S. Moffett.

Man Who Took Famed Photo Recalls Events at Iwo Jima 20 Years Ago

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20 (AP)—The closer you get to the beach the more you wonder which of the 18 or 20 men in the boat with you will never return.

That's the way photographer Joe Rosenthal recalls the U.S. marine assault on Iwo Jima 20 years ago Friday.

Five thousand marines died on the tiny island. They made it a fighter-plane stepping stone to Japan in World War II.

Secondary in Rosenthal's thoughts is the famous photograph he made of marines raising the American flag on Mt. Suribachi, at the southern tip of the eight square miles of Iwo.

It has often been described as the best picture of World War II. It won him a Pulitzer prize in 1945. It was the model for a huge bronze Marine memorial in Arlington, Va., across the Potomac river from Washington, D.C. It was the theme poster for the seventh war loan drive. It has been reproduced on U.S. postage stamps.

Millions of copies have been printed—in black and white, in color, in magazines, newspapers and on posters.

The photographer, now 53, stocky, bespectacled and with thinning white hair, observed in an interview: "The picture serves a useful purpose in reminding people of the kind of job these men did in battle. Iwo was the kind of battle that is so fierce and costly in suffering, not only to those killed but those who came back maimed.

"The island was bristling, porcupine-like with emplacements. Cannon, anti-aircraft and machineguns studied the terraced terrain.

"Their fire was very heavy in spite of the advance pounding by ship and aerial bombardment. The Japanese had an intricate maze of underground caves and connecting tunnels, some three or four stories down. They had underground sleeping quarters, mess hall and headquarters where they could weather the bombardment. Most were still available when the assault came.

"We were all briefed pretty well on the defense. So the was a grim reality as we approached the beach, wondering who would never come back."

Iwo was the fifth island assault. Rosenthal covered the Pacific war as an Associated Press photographer.

The flag-raising by five marines and a navy corpsman on 56-foot Mt. Suribachi came on Feb. 23 (U.S. time), four days after the marines first hit the beach.

Rosenthal, now a photographer for the San Francisco Chronicle, said he was invited to Iwo Jima's 20th memorial on Feb. 20 and would like to have gone but was offered military transportation only from Tokyo to Iwo.

ONE OF NEW machines which will be used in Twin Falls' newest manufacturing business is operated by Joe Corrigan, son of one of the co-owners. Aluminum and related products will be featured and many alterations have been made at the build-

4-H Leader Series Starts At Rupert

RUPERT, Feb. 20—A series of 4-H leader training sessions, got under way Tuesday evening at the Rupert Grange hall, with the county agents and 4-H leaders of the county in charge.

John Chase, president of the Leader's association, conducted an election of officers. Ned Norner, Heyburn, was elected president; Mrs. Paul Pederson, vice president, and Mrs. Leo Becker, secretary.

Linda Butler and Linda Montgomery gave the 4-H pledges and Ann Marie Baum conducted singing.

Mrs. Leon Mehlenbacher and Mrs. Pederson were in charge of getting acquainted and refreshments.

John Chase reported a committee had met with the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce and they agreed to continue the Fat Stock sale as usual, instead of the Saturday following the fair as was tentatively planned.

The meeting was conducted in the form of a model 4-H meeting and a film, "Man Enough for the Job," which discussed objectives to be gained from the training session, and another film, "4-H Leader," was presented.

The next three meetings are scheduled for Feb. 23, March 2 and March 9. The annual spring banquet will climax the series of training meetings for those completing the training and other members of the 4-H Leader's association and Builders' club. The banquet will be held March 23.

Olan Genn, Twin Falls, will speak on what constitutes a good project and will give techniques of leadership development at the Feb. 23 meeting. The session will be arranged by the 4-H Builders group. Mrs. Leon Mehlenbacher and Mrs. Paul Pederson will elaborate on "what we have learned about competition in developing boys and girls."

Dorothy Hole, assistant state 4-H leader from the University of Idaho extension service, Moscow, will speak on effective demonstrations at the March 2 meeting. She also will speak on science in 4-H projects.

Mrs. Marjorie Gebauer and

4-H Leaders in Shoshone Meet

SHOSHONE, Feb. 20—Annual 4-H leaders' banquet was held Wednesday night at the American Legion hall sponsored by the fair board.

Floyd Silva was master of ceremonies. Speaker for the evening was Olan Genn, assistant Twin Falls county extension agent, who spoke on leadership.

Entertainment numbers were provided by Michael John Urutia, who sang, and Mark Astler, Dietrich, playing cornet solos.

Committee members in charge of the event were Don Ward, Richfield, and Murdo Gage, Dietrich. The welcome was given by Burton Thorne, fair board president. County Extension Agent Ivan Hopkins gave remarks.

An open discussion was held regarding ways to improve the county fair.

to attract people like us to this area," Corrigan said.

Back before the time the two men met Hove, Corrigan was influenced, in 1963, to come to Idaho for a visit. The "influence" was pressed by District Judge Gus Carr Anderson, Pocatello, while he was temporarily attached to the command and general staff college at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan. Corrigan made the trip to Idaho for a tour of the entire section and a week of fishing on the Big Lost river.

Several weeks later Gillespie came west for a similar inspection.

Both men returned to Kansas, where they had excellent income businesses in the same line which they have started in Twin Falls, and made provisions to "take the jump west."

Corrigan entered the aluminum business in 1948, starting

Mrs. Hylak Beaver will explain the parents' part in the 4-H program. Reed Lewis will be in charge of the meeting.

Safety, junior leadership and careers will be explored at the March meeting with Mrs. Beaver, Mrs. Dale Cribb, Mrs. Cleve Mendenhall and Reed Lewis in charge.

During the spring banquet, scholarship presentations will be made to two deserving 4-H members, one by Trevino and Johnson and the other by Minidoka Co-op Supply.

with aluminum siding then advancing into the insulating combination storm and screen window field and branching into doors, awnings and aluminum shingle roofing.

At the same time Gillespie was making the first aluminum awnings, setting up the plant for another concern in Kansas. He then advanced to ownership of his own business and entered much the same field, and became a competitor of Corrigan.

At the present time there are seven employees at the concern and preparations are being made for additional expansion as soon as development work is completed and several new products are added.

Both owners said that the company products have been set up on a volume basis and that prices direct to the customers have been pegged at 1948 prices on aluminum siding. But insulating aluminum combination storm and screen windows and doors, awnings, ornamental iron and chain link fence, for instance, will be less than the 1948 price.

At the present time an extensive remodeling program is nearing completion at the new plant. More displays are planned for display on the building.

All products will be financed 100 per cent through the company and local banks.

"This policy we have established allows most of the financial benefits to remain in Idaho to serve Idaho through Idaho labor," the new businessmen said in a joint statement.

The firm office will be open five and one-half days a week and the general public is invited, to inspect the various products in the newly completed showroom.

A fleet of trucks, bearing company advertising, has been put into service along with several trailers. The new company will serve the territory between Pocatello and Boise and from Twin Falls to Ketchum and Sun Valley.

The Bible, God's Word and Our Guide

Emory W. Leader, Pastor United Brethren in Christ.
Text: "...no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation. For the prophecy came not in old time, but by the will of man; but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." II Peter 1:20, 21.

For many centuries the Bible has been, and still is, the most studied, the most read, the best loved, and the most treasured book in all the world.

The subject of Rev. E. Leader's Bible is Jesus Christ, while its object is the salvation of the lost.

The Bible not only gives the history of the eternal past, but also foretells the eternal future. Although most ancient, the Bible is most up-to-date. The Bible is made up of 66 books, written by about 40 different authors, yet the unity of thought indicates One Mind inspired its writing.

Our text says, "Holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Spirit." To me, that is a satisfactory explanation of the unity of so many different books by a number of authors.

The Bible speaks to men of all ages, in all places, in all walks of life. Included in the recent inaugural address of President Johnson was a great passage from the Bible. At the funeral of the late President John F.

Kennedy, a number of his favorite scriptures were read. As we listened to the funeral services of Sir Winston Churchill, we heard read many familiar portions of the Bible we use to bring comfort to the bereaved in ordinary walks of life.

Abraham Lincoln said "I believe the Bible is the best gift God has ever given to man." "All the good from the Saviour of the world is communicated to us through this Book."

As has already been noted, the subject of the Bible is Jesus Christ, first promised in Genesis 3:15, and referred to as "seed of woman." This prophecy was fulfilled when Jesus, the Son of God, was born of the virgin Mary. In Christ is fulfilled, John 3:15, "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Throughout the Bible is expressed God's love and forgiveness. Isaiah, the prophet who prophesied the coming of Jesus Christ about 700 B.C., said with authority: "Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool." Isaiah 1:18. This prophecy was fulfilled when Jesus died on the Cross. "The blood of Jesus Christ, His son, cleanseth us from all sin," and keeps clean, as individual lives are submitted to Him.

Yearly Youth Banquet Is Held at Buhl

BUHL, Feb. 20—A Valentine motif was used in carrying out the theme, "With All Your Heart," for the annual city-wide youth banquet held Wednesday evening in the First Presbyterian church, the host church this year. More than 75 youths and guests attended the event.

Highlights of the evening were a guest speaker and musical program. The Rev. Jack Jennings, Wendell, featured speaker, used the two parables, the treasure chest, and the pearl of great value, in emphasizing his message on the topic, "The Kingdom of God." He also stressed on the youths eternal quest for something better in life.

The musical portion of the program included a girl's vocal trio composed of Jan Rowen, Everyone really knows that there must be a God, the Creator, to whom we are all responsible. Even so-called atheists call upon God, or curse Him in time of trouble.

After Jesus died on the Cross, he was buried, rose again and ascended into heaven, he sent, as he had promised, the Holy Spirit to abide in the hearts of the believers. He, the real author of the Bible, gives us spiritual understanding.

Truly the Bible is a guidebook, which we are fortunate to have and be able to read. Read the Bible today, and let its message guide you.

Joan Arford and Maria Arford, with Mrs. Clifford Brown as accompanist, and selections by the Buhl high school hootenany group, "The Legends."

Jan Rowen led the group singing with Joan Arford providing the background piano accompaniment. Tom Parnell served as master of ceremonies. The Rev. Delmar M. Talley, pastor of the First Christian church, gave the invocation and the Rev. Mr. Jennings, the benediction.

Table decorations were carried out in red and white and featured miniature trees bedecked with hearts. An array of hearts and cupid provided other background adornment for the festive occasion. Youths from the First Presbyterian and First Methodist church with Linda Westby, chairman, made the decorations.

AUCTION PLANNED
KING HILL, Feb. 20 — King Hill Grange No. 162 will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the hall to complete details for the auction sale to be held Feb. 27. Refreshments will be served by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Timbers and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Spence.

YOUR BIRTHDAY
and HOROSCOPE

SUNDAY, Feb. 21 — Born today, you are of independent and extremely thoughtful mind. Not one to be easily swayed, you will think and do as your conscience and intelligence directs, regardless of consequences.

You have an excellent command of the language and are quite able to persuade others. There is much of the missionary about you when it comes to gathering support for your cause. You have no wish to sail under false colors, however, not even if doing so would win you your heart's desire.

You have yourself well in hand emotionally. There are times when your emotional response is swifter than your intellectual reaction to a situation or circumstance. You would be wise to allow the one you select for a life partner to get to know you in all your facets; personality surprises can bring hardship to any marriage.

Among those born on this date are: John Henry Cardinal Newman, English writer and prelate; Alice Freeman Palmer, American educator, one-time president of Wellesley College. To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) — An excellent day if you avoid waiting it in nonproductive amusement.

ARIES (March 21-April 20) — If you must travel at this time, take extra precautions against weather and the foolishness of others.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Money and effort wisely invested today can spell success before week's end.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — All signs point to the successful completion of any ventures having to do with out-of-town travel.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Time now to put well-laid plans into action. To delay further may be to forfeit the entire venture.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Gain should follow the honest expression of your desires. Let authorities know where you stand on certain matters at issue.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — The time is ripe for making profitable contacts with those

Directors Named
For Corporation

Directors of the Real Estate Securities Corporation were announced Sunday by R. G. (Dick) Messersmith, president. They include Donald Taylor, George Haney, Jr., James J. May, James Danner, Frank Feldman, Messersmith, Gordon Crockett and Gordon Beckstead.

After the stockholders meeting held in the Idaho Power auditorium at which a progress report was given by Messersmith, directors elected officers. Messersmith was re-elected president; Donald Taylor, vice president; James J. May, secretary, and Gordon Beckstead, treasurer.

whose interest in present projects is as keen as your own.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Use this day to shore up the foundations of your family life. Remember that the weakest spot is not necessarily the youngest member.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23) — An all-around good day to begin business early, stick to it, assiduously, and on time. Keep to a schedule.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Together, you and Lady Luck should be able to accomplish more than usual today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Make sure your general outlook is bright and optimistic. Nothing comes today to the Capricorn who allows gloom to overcome him.

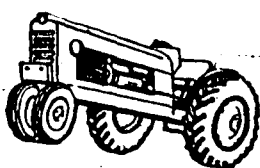

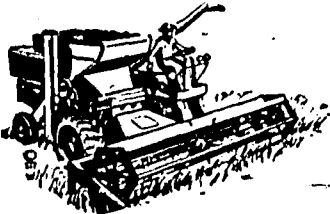

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — A day when new projects can be begun without fear of failure. But don't expect too much too soon.
